Our New San Francisco Location

at 638-4th Street, between Brannan and Bluxome. We think you will agree that it's THE BEST wine shop in SF.

Old Wine Headquarters

K&L is your old and rare wine headquarters, especially for wines from Bordeaux, California, Germany, Champagne, and for all your old port needs. We just purchased several great vintages from Beaulieu Vineyards (see page 15) and from René Collard Champagnes (see page 17). In addition, some great Bordeaux and California wines have just arrived. See this page, pages 12 and 14.

Three Containers

full of superb wines have just arrived! Included are some big name 2001 Châteauneuf-du-Pape, most of the remaining 2000 Bordeaux, the first batch of 2001 Bordeaux, and some old K&L standbys. Check out pages 1, 5 and 16.

Wine Storage Lockers in San Francisco

We are building storage lockers in our San Francisco store. These lockers have a capacity of between 24-30 cases. The lockers should be available in November, and we are now taking reservations.

To reserve a locker you must pay a refundable deposit of $180 (six-months rental). Call Sharon at (650) 364-8544 ex 633.

Back-to-School Sparkling Values

Launois "Cuvée Reserve" Brut Blanc de Blancs$23.99

This spectacular 100% chardonnay Champagne is one of the most sought after in France; its cult status made it very difficult for us to purchase even a little.

Tarlant Brut Reserve$24.99

This wine is creamy and rich but still light and refreshing. Tarlant is one of a handful of "cult" producers in Champagne, but unlike most other trendy estates, they have been around for a while—since 1687!

Marguet-Bonnerave Brut Rosé$24.99

It took three years of hard searching, but we knew we could find great rosé champagne under $25! This has a wonderful, subtle, strawberryish nose and a fresh, delicate flavor. Rosé fans rejoice!

Billecart-Salmon Brut Reserve.....$29.99

One of our old standbys, this sparkler is rich and also clean and refreshing.

1985 Krug Brut—Limited.$121.95

Big Name, Low-Price Bordeaux

BOTTLE

1999 Château Poujeaux, Moulis.....$21.99

88 points, Parker: "This charming, full-bodied 1999 is a sleeper of the vintage. It reveals beautiful, sweet fruit redolent with notes of raspberries, black currants, and spicy wood. The wine is soft, velvety-textured, yet concentrated."

1989 Château Talbot, St-Julien.....$59.99

90 points, Parker: "The 1989 Talbot may not be so backward and closed as the 1989 from its sister château, Gruaud-Larose, but it is a fascinating wine that resembles the 1982."

1996 Château Cos d'Estournel, St-Estèphe$69.99

95 points, Wine Spectator: "Dark-colored, with plenty of currant and spice aromas, the wine is full-bodied, with very velvety tannins and allspice, berry and currant flavors. Long, long finish. One of the wines of the vintage, it's a beauty."

1999 Château Lafite-Rothschild, Pauillac$139.99

95 points, Parker: "[A] quintessential offering . . . This prodigious wine is both elegant and intensely flavored, and is almost diaphanous in its layers that unfold with no heaviness . . . a complex bouquet of lead pencil, graphite, cedar, crème de cassis, toast, and vanilla." The Wine Spectator rated this the top Bordeaux in their Top 100 issue of 2002.

1996 Château Haut-Brion, Pessac$149.00

95-96+ points, Parker: "Brilliant . . . continuing a trend that has made Haut-Brion one of the most consistent first-growths in Bordeaux. The 1996 Haut-Brion has put on weight, and was even sweeter and more fragrant in November than it was earlier in the year."

Superstar 2001 Châteauneuf-du-Pape

2001 Bosquet des Papes—Parker 89-91 pts$26.99

2001 Bosquet des Papes Chante Merle—Parker 91-94 pts$51.99

2001 Mas de Boislauson, Le Quet—Parker 91-93 pts$39.99

2001 Paul Autard Cote Ronde—Parker 91-94 pts$39.99

2001 Raymond Usseglio—Parker 90-91 pts$24.99

Limited availability on these high-scoring Châteauneufs. Due in early September. Several more available—check our website.

Just a Couple of Notes . . .

No room for a long editorial, so here goes. First, congratulations to Gregory Condes from the Redwood City store. He's just returned from England after passing the Advanced Sommelier test on his first try!

Please mark down Saturday, November 1 and Sunday, November 2, the dates of our dinner/tastings with Jean-Michel Cazes of Château Lynch-Bages fame. He will be in town, showing us the first look at the excellent 2001 Bordeaux vintage. We will taste no less than 15 wines plus Champagne and enjoy a five-course dinner with the wines! Besides the 2001 vintage of Lynch-Bages, Léoville-Barton, Cos d'Estournel, Langoa-Barton, etc, we will have older vintages from these estates, such as 1995 Lynch-Bages, 1990 Léoville-Barton, 1993 Cos, 1986 Lynch-Bages, and 1989 Rieussec. The Saturday night dinner will be at the Stanford Court in San Francisco, and the Sunday night dinner will be at Spago in Palo Alto. We start taking reservations in September, or you can sign-up online. —Clyde Beffa, Jr

2001 BORDEAUX FUTURES

Robert Parker calls 2001 "an excellent year." He says "I suspect wealthy readers can never have enough of the 2000s, but for prices 30-75% lower, smart money should be chasing the better 2001s." The scores below are his most recent from The Wine Advocate, Issue 146 (4/23/03). Check our 12-page vintage report or check online.

Jeff's Picks: Gunderloch 2002

Traveling south out of Nackenheim, the road is flanked on the left by the majestic Rhine River, and on the right, by the "Red Slope" of the Rothenberg vineyard, which rises steeply to over a hundred meters. This vineyard is considered one of the few Grand Cru sites in the Rheinhessen and is almost a monopole holding for the Gunderloch Estate. Here the soil—a type of red slate that quickly weathers to a rich red earth—leaves its distinctive mark on the wines, imparting a seductiveness and lavish-fruit character that is at once refined and spicy. Full of concentration and a sheer power that is slow to develop but lasts for decades, the wines of Gunderloch are among the greatest wines made in the region today, and the 2002s are nothing short of fantastic.

2002 Gunderloch Nackenheimer Rothenberg Spätlese ($25.99) This wine is showing the most of the vineyard at the moment with peppery notes to the nose and the palate, rich aromas of acacia blossom, honey and tangerine, and a core of crackling limey acidity that holds the lush palate together and draws the wine out. A long, involved wine that is concentrated and deep.

2002 Gunderloch Nackenheimer Rothenberg Auslese ($36.99) This could be the greatest Auslese at Gunderloch to date. It leaves you breathless with a detailed nose of honey, wax, ripe peaches, white figs. It only gets better on the palate, with a wash of wet stone and red earth, humming and glowing under a blanket of apricots sprinkled with cinnamon spice and chopped dates. What makes it great, truly great, is its precision and purity, its expressiveness of place and clear bright fruit.

2002 Gunderloch Nackenheimer Rothenberg Gold Capsule Auslese (375ml, $37.99; 750ml, $74.99) A botrytis selection and one that I look forward to each year from this estate. Never overblown or cloying, always bright and rich and full of the vineyard character that I love. I need that red slate! Alive with spice from the soil and the clean botrytis-affected fruit that heaps layers of rich honeyed, pineapple goodness upon the palate. Candied orange peel and hints of fresh raspberry linger in the glass along with some cinnamon and date. A keeper. Enjoy! As always, happy to be here.—Jeff Vierra

September Bordeaux: Sunny Skies and Great Wine

As of August 1, the 2003 Bordeaux vintage is looking good, and it's going to be action packed here at K&L. Some great wines from the famous 2000 vintage have started to hit the floor, and their quality for the price is just amazing. The old saying is true: you can get some great inexpensive wine in great vintages! A perfect example of this is 2000 L'Enclos du Château Lezongars ($14.99). When we are working in Bordeaux, tasting through hundreds of young wines, we're only concerned about the quality of the juice and about finding wines in a style our customers will love. This wine is exactly what we strive to find. A blend of about half merlot and cabernet from 25-year-old vines in the Côtes de Bordeaux, L'Enclos is loaded with full-blown, opulently ripe fruit. Flavors of ripe grapes, blackberry/prune are all wonderfully balanced with nine months in oak, both French and American, that give the wine a glossy, warm feel. Stock up on this beauty.

Almost every day I tell a customer that I can build him or her a GREAT wine collection and never pay more than $25 a bottle. The foundation of that cellar would be the second wines of Bordeaux's greatest estates. The quality at estates like Cos d'Estournel in St-Estèphe and Pontet-Canet in Pauillac has reached an all-time pinnacle. The difference in price between first and second wines is huge, but the quality in the bottle is very close. It is a difference of longevity and power. And, yes, first wines have much more power and grip. Still, if you bought any 2000 Cos or Pontet you would be nuts not to put away a half a case of 2000 Pagodes de Cos ($23.99). This is a round mouthful of deeply-rooted, fragrant merlot with hints of lavender, mineral and coffee while the cabernet is full and long on the finish. Les Hauts de Pontet is not as well known, but that is the beauty of it all at $18.99. Intense and pure, dark purple and vibrant, and much more approachable than the first wine that needs many years in the cellar, this is attractive and tasty.

The older I get the more I am in love with the wines from Branais-Ducru, under the passionate direction of Patrick Maroteau, from the elegant southern tip of St-Julien. Brilliant, silky red fruit and elegance—the product of phenomenal terrior, gravel and drainage—are the hallmark qualities of Branais. The 1999 is $29.95, and is a stunning, affordable bottle of fine Bordeaux.

Looking for some secondary flavors? Investigate the magical triangle of properties that surround the northern border of St-Julien and the southern border of Pauillac. Try 1994 Clos du Marquis ($24.99) from Léoville-Las-Cases. This wine gets to the perfect drinking stage after nine years, so it was a big hit in the tasting bar last week. Soft mulberry flavors are emerging from this always elegant but powerful wine. A smart buy for a cellar selection this month is 1994 Pichon-Longueville-Comtesse de Lalande ($64.99). It took us eight minutes to taste this firm Pichon with maritime spice from cabernet and roundness from merlot. It's not quite ready yet, three to five years longer in the cellar is the right call.

Please feel free to contact me on any questions regarding the wines of Bordeaux at ex 623 or at Ralph@klwines. Cheers and Go Giants! —Ralph Sands

Jim C's View Down Under

2001 Ross Estate "North Ridge" Cabernet-Shiraz, Barossa Valley, South Australia ($13.99) Winemaker Rod Chapman—working with Max Schubert, the creator of Grange—is regarded by the Aussie press as one of the top five winemakers in Australia. Made from a blend of 60% cabernet sauvignon and 40% shiraz. The bouquet is packed with ripe black cherry, currant and blackberry fruits accented by notes of coffee and caramel. These flavors follow on the palate to a juicy middle, silky texture and a hint of mint in the long finish. A SUPER VALUE.

2000 Best's Great Western Bin #1 Shiraz, Western Victoria ($17.99) Coming from a cooler climate, the Best's Bin #1 reveals brighter fruits like blueberry and boysenberry complimented by notes of licorice, lavender and smoked meats. Good acidity that supports a juicy mid-palate framed by oak-influenced flavors of mocha and toffee. This is Aussie Shiraz with elegance.

2002 Torbreck "Juveniles," Barossa Valley, South Australia ($22.95) In this superb vintage, winemaker David Powell has made a wine with incredible purity of fruit, seamless balance and great length. Named after a Parisian wine bar, the wine has nothing to do with youth. The blend of 60% grenache, 20% shiraz and 20% mataro are sourced from old vines. The old-vine fruit offers complex aromas of dark strawberry, smoky black raspberry, grilled meats, earth and pepper.

2002 Jeanneret Riesling, Clare Valley, South Australia ($14.95) The 2002 vintage in the Clare Valley has been touted as the best in the last thirty years. The perfumed nose offers elements of lime peel, apricot, marmalade, wet stone and white flowers. On the palate, the stone fruit and mineral notes are supported by great acidity and balance. Cheers! —Jim Chanteloup

Trey's Corner

Need some fruit in your wines? I have a couple that will blow you away. For wines that are truly built around their fruit, we need to leave the "old world" and head into the "land of the free and the home of the brave!" (Wine geeks need not apply.) The 2002 Owen Roe Columbia Valley "Abbot's Table" Red ($23.99) is a blend of everything from zinfandel to pinot noir. Six different grapes are used to make up this blend, which is loaded with bright red cherry fruit, a velvety texture and a fresh, lively finish. This fruit bomb will pair well with almost any barbecue you plan to have this fall. Less than 600 cases were produced. The 2001 Gamba Old Vine Russian River Zinfandel ($34.99) will cure that urge. This classic zinfandel was produced from estate-grown, organically- and dry-farmed 100-year-old vines. The wine was aged in 100% American oak and was bottled unfiltered and unfiltered. Layers of concentrated blueberry, wild raspberry, ripe cherry, black licorice and peppery spice meet the palate and explode with intense flavor. Only 750 cases were produced.

Generally I do not buy wines for myself by the case, but I might have to buy a case of this wine. The 2001 Siduri "Hirsch Vineyard" Sonoma Pinot Noir ($37.99) is a blockbuster of a wine. It is rich, deep and almost meaty in its texture and size. It is loaded with spice, black currants, ripe strawberries and hints of violets and chocolate. In a blind tasting one might guess this as a syrah. Hurry! Only 437 cases were produced. Need to clean your palate after all these big reds. Try the 2002 SoloRosa California Rosé ($12.99). This dry rosé is full and rich for its type. The wine is aged for five months exclusively in 2- to 4-year-old French oak barrels and offers multiple layers of intensity. Enjoy! —Trey

Who Wants to Save Money?

We all do, of course, and finding wildly outrageous bargains for you is my favorite task. There are some great wines produced by major cult wineries but sold under negociant labels, and I have two of the best this month. When a winery decides to sell a portion of their wines for a fraction of the usual cost, they can't issue it under their own label. If they did, no one would buy their regular, high-price wine! That's where negociant labels come in. Many wines under these labels are first-rate wines that under different circumstances would be impossible to find. Not for you and me; we're on the inside track!

2001 Kalinda Napa Chardonnay ($12.99) The last time we had a Kalinda chard of this quality it sold out quickly, and people are still asking for it. This wine could easily sell for $30+ and be well worth the price. It's expansive in the nose with huge amounts of rich hazelnut, smooth oak, and papaya fruit. The mouth yields a mountain of sumptuous ripe pear and tropical fruits. These flavors are interlaced with incredibly creamy, nutty oak that coats the mouth. It ends with a super-long, drawn-out finish that seems to go on forever. Anyone with a passion for great California chards will love this, but it won't last forever. I wish I could tell you which great Napa winery made this wine!

2001 Kirkham Peak Napa Merlot ($14.99) is an equally extraordinary wine from the same winery. It's a wine with power and depth, intensity and viscosity, but no harsh tannins or hard edges. A nose of wonderfully concentrated cassis and deep black cherry with a dusting of cocoa powder, followed by a mouthful of thick, rich black cherry jam and black currant fruit, with minglings of cocoa and anise. Dusty smooth tannins, and great structure, and a long, deep finish that goes on and on. With equivalent cult-ish merlots selling for $30-$90, this wine gives you a superstar juice on a working man's budget. Make sure to get yours while they last. Cheers! —Shaun Green

San Francisco Focus

Trey, Alison and I made our way to the Napa Valley in late July. One of our stops was the Honig Cellars. The winery is in the process of being built, so we met Elaine Honig at her home located in the middle of the family's 70-acre, organically-farmed vineyards. As we approached, the air was filled with the scent of the lavender that surrounds the house. Elaine poured three wines for us:

2002 Honig Sauvignon Blanc ($11.99) A crisp, dry sauvignon blanc with flavors of citrus, papaya, flint and kiwi. It shows bright fruit and has a long crisp finish. Aged on lees for five months. A recent Double Gold-Best of Varietal at the SF International Wine Competition.

2001 Honig Reserve Sauvignon Blanc ($17.99) A richer, creamier sauvignon blanc, which sees some new oak and malolactic fermentation. Seven months on the lees. Flavors of citrus, oak and grapefruit.

2000 Honig Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($27.99) A fantastic 2000 cabernet. Rich and velvety with black cherry, plum and oak on the nose, rich tannins and a long finish.

See you in the city. . .

Plain Talk about Fine Wine, Franciscan Style

Sitting across the table from Larry Levin, a 20-year wine veteran and Franciscan Estate's current winemaker, I couldn't help but think of the late Justin Meyer's book Plain Talk about Fine Wine, which did a masterful job of "making wine make sense" to me many years ago. While I tasted the Franciscan Oakville Estate wines, Larry graciously and humbly explained how each bottle was simply a combination of attention to detail coupled with Franciscan's emphasis on terroir. Under the watchful eyes of Larry since 1998, Franciscan Oakville Estate wines have consistently received high ratings and recommendations. I now know why! My favorite white wine that day was the 2000 Cuvée Sauvage Chardonnay ($27.99) from Carneros. Why? A perfect aroma of light peach and honey leading to a wonderful lush sip of spicy vanilla and slight toasty oak flavor. The sip brought me back to summer days, sitting on a deck in Tahoe, relaxing to the sounds of mountain streams. I think Larry caught on to my daydreaming, so he quickly suggested I try the 2000 Napa Valley Merlot ($16.99). Oh yeah! I drifted from a warm Tahoe summer day to a cozy, romantic Tahoe night. Open this one fireside with your honey and a rich chocolate dessert! This ruby-red wine screams, "Drink all of me!" This velvety merlot is elegant with deep cherry flavors and a rich, long and supple finish. You might want to plan on two bottles—it's that good! Onward to the 2000 Oakville Cabernet Sauvignon ($18.99). Rated 90 points by the Wine Spectator, this cabernet is LOADED with rich, ripe black cherry and plum flavors that are nicely mixed with a hint of toasted oak. Franciscan's 2000 surpasses my expectations of what a Napa Valley cabernet should taste like. This bottle would make a perfect gift for someone who loves California Cabernet. As a side note, next time you are planning on fish for dinner and need white wine under $20, don't leave K&L without Simi Russian River Chardonnay ($16.99).

Feel free to send me an email or ask me, while shopping in Redwood City, about my most recent California wine discoveries. After spending 28 years in Texas, I'm always on the hunt for a great California wine that's a good value! Stop in and introduce yourself soon.

Châteauneuf-du-Pape for the Fall

I am very pleased to bring you some of our best and highest quality Châteauneuf-du-Pape. All of these are favorites of Robert Parker, too!

2001 Domaine de la Pinede ($21.99) Sweet nose of blackberry fruit. Full and rich, with ripe black cherries and anise on the palate. Lightly spiced. 90-92 points from Mr Parker.

2001 Château Maucoil ($19.99) A perfectly delicious wine for a very small price. This wine has a black cherry nose with added scents of herbs and pepper. Medium bodied, yet lush with jammy red fruit.

1998 Château Maucoil "Cuvée Privilege" ($35.99) 90 points from Parker. Gorgeous boysenberry nose! Ample cinnamon spice notes. Viscous in the mouth with loads of ripe, black fruits and licorice.

2000 Château Maucoil "Cuvée Privilege" ($29.99) More tannic and intense than the 1998, the 2000 is a purple-colored monster with a nose of black fruits and smoke. In the mouth, blackberry fruit and cherry liqueur flavors mingle with toasted oak. 91 points from Parker.

2000 Château Cabrières Prestige "Tête du Cru" ($29.99) Red fruits—plums, cherries—on the nose. In the mouth, ripe cherries, currants and vanilla. Soft tannins. Full-bodied with great complexity!

Enjoy! I just love these wines!

More Great Deals from Sunny Spain

2002 Castell del Remei Blanc Planell ($8.99) Here's the white wine made by the folks who brought us the Gotim Bru. A blend of chardonnay, sauvignon blanc and macabeo, it has a beautiful nose full of nectarine and apple blossoms with a long, racy finish.

2001 Casa de La Ermita Jumilla ($11.99) Casa de la Ermita is a great red from the super "hot" region of Jumilla in southern Spain. Made from a blend of mourvèdre, tempranillo and cabernet sauvignon, the Ermita is packed with ripe black fruits and spice flavors followed by vanillin oak and a long voluptuous finish.

2000 Artadi Vinas De Gain Crianza ($16.99) A great Rioja! The wines from Juan Carlos de la Calle show the concentration and depth of pure tempranillo. Parker says: "100% Tempranillo cuvée . . . this elegant, medium dark ruby-colored Rioja exhibits Burgundian-like characteristics of sweet and sour cherries, vanilla, and spice."

2000 Solanes Priorat ($24.99) The 2000 Solanes is the fourth vintage of a joint venture between Cims de Porrera and Mas Martinet. Made from a blend of 90% cariñena and 10% garnacha. Sara Perez, the winemaker, is a master with cariñena—showcasing all of the depth of fruit and power while rounding out all of this varietal's rough edges. The ripe black currant and berry fruit is complimented by long, spicy finish. Enjoy this big, stylish red with a juicy grilled tri-tip.

Buen Cata! —Anne Pickett

Boatloads of Beaulieu, 1982 Growths, Sundry Nonsense

I was in Costco the other day (this is a true story, by the way) noodling down the dog food aisle for no particular reason (didn't need any, but don't you cruise the aisles anyway?) when I hear this barking, and I'm thinking that they must let animals go shopping nowadays, and I'd left Abbey stuck in the car. Well, they don't let animals in Costco. This guy was barking at the darn dog food, different barks for different brands. I'm thinking koo-koo-ka joob as I scoot off towards the giant bags of tortilla chips. When you least expect it, something comes out of the woodwork to make you glad you showered, dressed and got out there in the real world. Below are pictures of the dogs the guy was imitating.

Abbey

Anderson

If you told me I'd be getting hundreds of cases of Beaulieu Vineyards reds, all the good ones, direct from the winery, I'd have thought that you'd gone barking at dog food. But here they are, so here you go: 1997 Tapestry, the unctuous ready-to-drink blend that has become a red hot wine for BV; the great 1976 Private Reserve Cabernet Sauvignon, a wine that takes its place among the greatest ever produced; the 1977, now shooting to the front of the pack after years of mediocre reviews; the '86 Anniversary Bottling; the balanced and age-worthy '90 in mags

Jim's The-Harvest-Has-Begun Gems

Many of you have asked via email and in person, and the answer is, yes! The newly planted vineyard is doing well! The baby pinot and riesling vines are doing so well that they are already 6 to 12 inches above their grow-shoots, and have forced us to cut back watering each block from two hours every other day, to one hour per block three times a week.

This harvest reminds me of the 1998 vintage. We had soooo much rain both years (70+ inches at my place just northwest of Philo), the only difference between them was that during January and February 2003 it didn't rain at all. Like 1998, this summer season had high temperatures and fogless days and evenings. Heat is great for cabernet, but not for Dijon clones of pinot.

This month's GEMS include two stunning, absolutely delicious 2000 "minor growth" Bordeaux. These are the wines to buy for the short haul; the "major growths" will take decades to evolve. As Clyde said to us the day he returned from his week-long premier Bordeaux barrel tasting, "If you're over 50, you might think twice about buying the classified growths of 2000." The 2000 Château Trebiac, Graves ($13.99) comes from vineyards planted in deep gravel soils. The 60% merlot, 30% cabernet sauvignon, and 10% cabernet franc blend provides tons of character. Medium-deep ruby in color, the focus is on the Graves minerality and structure. The wine is tightly woven, yet balanced, and with airing provides rich, deep, complex flavors of red fruits and spice, with soft mid-palate tannins and a warm, expansive finish.

Also wonderfully impressive is the 2000 Château St-Hilaire (Queyrac), and 750s; the plumper, higher-toast oak that frames the '91, mags and 750s; the firmer-styled; ready-to-drink '92, mags and 750s; and more, more, more. This is a once-in-a-lifetime deal for both of us, with reduced prices to boot.

Speaking of animals, as I write this Jim Barr will (hopefully) be getting married. I was asked to play the accordion at his wedding, but I decided to host a party for eighty with no kitchen instead. Sure hope the guests like peanut butter sandwiches and warm Coors!

1982 Classed Growth Bordeaux: Nothing But The Best. Check this out. All 1982s, all cases or multiple cases: Mouton, Latour, Cos d'Estournel, La Mission-Haut-Brion, Ducru-Beaucaillou, Léoville-Las-Cases, Lynch-Bages and Pichon-Lalande. The Lalande is plump, ripe and ready; the Lynch-Bages is cedary, tobacco laced, ripe but with backbone; Léoville-Las-Cases is firm, earthy and with plenty on the attack but needs time to reach its 100-point potential; the Ducru-Beaucaillou is a bit more forward than I would have thought, earthy classic claret, lovely; La Mission-Haut-Brion is warm and heady, almost merlot-like, with coffee and black fruit in abundance, nearly sweet. Liquid velvet. The Mouton-Rothschild and Latour are, in most folks' opinion, two of the greatest wines ever produced and will continue to be for many years to come. All are in pristine condition. This is truly a cellar from the gods.

One of the latest additions to the colorful K&L crew is a guy that I'll call Chris for the sake of anonymity. His name does start with a 'C,' end with a 'S' and contains an 'H,' an 'R' and an 'I,' but no more clues. Anyway, the staff calls him The Fireman, but I don't know if that's because he works one day and takes off three or because he almost burned down the warehouse one day last month. But don't worry C - - S, your secret is safe with me! Plus, I didn't even tell anyone you work in the shipping department.

—Joe Z

Médoc ($14.99), a blend of 50% cabernet sauvignon, 45% merlot, and 5% cab franc. This lovely, ageable wine comes from their low-yield vineyard, and is inky in color. Offering opulent aromas of cassis and currants with a hint of cedar, the wine is a big, chunky mouthful with moderately youthful tannins, superb structure, firm acidity and a finish that refuses to quit. This and the Trebiac should be decanted at least an hour if you plan on drinking them near term. Anderson has told me that both of these need to be in our cellar. They are incredible values.

If you want one mind-boggling, super-intense wine, try the 2000 Domaine de Gally, Cuvée Pierre-Joseph Cros, Minervois ($12.99). One of the most concentrated, focused red wines that I have tried in some time, it is absolutely loaded with black pepper spiciness, and is deeeeeeep ruby—almost inky—in color, with tons of structure and depth, and a massively long finish. Primarily grenache, carignan and cinsault, with a little syrah that predominates in the nose. Anderson and Ebby say store this puppy for a few years or have it with a Fred's steak from Schaub's. (🍷🍷🍷🍷🍷)

Finally, our 2001 Kalinda Zinfandel, Paso Robles ($9.99) is an in-your-face zin that provides a gondola-full of spicy, minerally fruit characteristics on the nose and in the mouth and is underscored by mild oaky tones. One of those zins that is not for the faint of heart and should be enjoyed with heartier meals. (🍷🍷🍷🍷🍷)

Enjoy our selections, Jim, Anderson and Ebby

K&L buys many French wines and some Italian, Spanish, Australian, New Zealand and German wines directly from the producers or negociants. The advantages of this direct buying are twofold: first, we can taste the wines at the property and negotiate with the seller, often finding wines that are not available in the U.S. market; second, we can get the wines to you, our value-conscious customers, at the best prices available. There are no middlemen taking a percentage profit while passing it on through the channels of distribution. You reap the benefits of direct buying by getting outstanding, hand-picked, best-value wines at less-than-normal market prices.

75-foot Treasure Cellar

The most exciting Champagnes we have ever direct imported at K&L have arrived. Not new and exciting, mind you, but old and exciting! They are from Mr René Collard, who is perhaps the most respected vigneron in Champagne, and yet he is almost completely unknown outside of the region. His old vintages are found on the lists of Michelin-starred restaurants in Reims, Epernay and the rest of Champagne, but until now they have never been exported. It is only because of a very fortunate introduction by the folks at De Meric (who retain him as a consultant) that we were able to procure these treasures.

Many vignerons in Champagne are now switching back to organic viticulture; Mr Collard never wavered from it in the first place. None of his vines have ever been sprayed since his first vintage, all the way back in 1943. His vines are almost exclusively meunier from the village of Reuil, but he also has a small plot of chardonnay in Damery. His wines are living proof that meunier can age. I find them considerably fresher than many others, including Krug and Bollinger RDs of the same vintage. Maybe they keep their freshness because of the vinification—all in old-wood foudres (large barrels) with no malolactic—or maybe it is because all of these wines were made and have been stored in Mr Collards 45- to 75-foot-deep cellars. The wines were not moved once until they were picked up and put on our refrigerated container. I do not think it is possible to get old Champagne that has been this perfectly stored! We have available in very limited quantities the René Collard Brut Carte d'Or, his non vintage from very, very old stock; the 1990, his current vintage; the 1985 Brut and Rosé; the 1979 Brut; the 1976 Brut and the Cuvée Prestige Roi René (made only once in a decade or less); and finally, the immaculate 1975. The prices are in the K&L tradition—very low due to direct purchase. Please feel free to contact me at (800) 247-5987 ex 728, or by email at garyw@klwines.com, and I'd be happy to send you a price list (by fax, email or letter) with more detailed descriptions. Also, please drop me a line if you would like to be on my list of Champagne customers. A toast to you!

Mulan's Musings: Fall, Wine and Cheese

Cheese and wine. I do believe there are few things in life more heavenly than this combination. Well, perhaps I am exaggerating a bit here, but I would like to make clear that while wine is closest to my heart, cheese comes in at a close second. Every fall I host a cheese and wine soiree, and this year I plan on doing the same. The following are a few of my favorite wines, accompanied by an artisanal cheese suggestion. The 2002 Patrick Coulbois Pouilly-Fumé "Les Cocques" ($11.99) is a brilliant example of sauvignon blanc from the Loire Valley. The flint and limestone soils of the area impart an incredible vibrancy and freshness to the wine. Green apple, lime and guava are balanced by a superb wet stone minerality. Fromage frais and a slice of fuji apple would be a superb match. The 1999 Domaine de Baumard Clos du Papillon ($19.99) is 100% chenin blanc from a group of land parcels shaped like a butterfly (papillon) above the village of Savennières. The wine is voluminous and complex, with nuances of quince, fuji apple and vanilla cream. I would enjoy this chenin blanc with a slice of Comté or Crottin de Chavignol. And finally, pinot gris. Yes, pinot gris is a perfect match with a variety of cheeses. Alsatian pinot gris like the 1997 Schlumberger Kitterle Grand Cru Pinot Gris ($28.99) pairs beautifully with San Andreas, an aged sheep's milk cheese from Bellwether Farms in Valley Ford, California. The sharp, tangy and slightly nutty flavors of the cheese are a perfect match to the nutty richness of this wine.

A bientot! —Mulan Chan

Pour Votre Plaisir

Prince de Mérode Renewed

Domaine de Prince de Mérode has an amazing 12 hectares of Grand Cru Corton vineyards, and actually owns the Bois de Corton. In the past, however, the wines have been inconsistent. One of the most exciting developments in my Spring trip was tasting at the Domaine and seeing the complete change that has happened here. The Prince has made substantial investments in a new cuvée in the old stables, with temperature-controlled fermenters, and a new cellar-master in charge. Didier DuBois took over just ten days before harvest in 2001. He has had charge of the vineyards since 1996, and has reduced yields, reduced the use of chemicals and improved quality there. Now he has his chance in the cellar to do the same. He has also increased the triage, to select only the best grapes to go into the wine. We are pleased to bring them in directly to you, at exceptionally good prices. Don't miss these!

The 2001 Ladoix, “Les Chaillots” ($18.99) shows ripe, stylish fruit, fine tannins and a long finish. The 2001 Pommard “Platière,” 1er Cru ($29.99) has cherry notes, a solid middle and good length. Blackberry notes and structure are evident. The 2001 Aloxe-Corton “Les Marèchaudes,” 1er Cru ($29.99) includes grapes declassified from Corton Marèchaudes. It has a bright grapey nose, clean and attractive fruit, notes of cocoa, red cherry, cranberry and raspberry. Substantial fine tannins at the finish will let this wine age gracefully. The 2001 Corton “Marèchaudes,” Grand Cru ($39.99) shows more power on the nose with blacker, riper fruit, particularly on the long finish. The 50-year-old vines are evident here. The 2001 Corton “Renardes,” Grand Cru ($45.99), planted in 1957, shows a deep blueberry nose, blackberry and brambles on the palate and nice structure. Definitely a burlier and more muscular wine, but sophisticated. The 2001 Corton “Bressandes,” Grand Cru ($46.99) really impressed me. It is deeply colored, with dark, rich fruit, fine tannins and much more weight on the mid-palate. The 2001 Corton “Clos du Rois,” Grand Cru ($47.99) is dense, layered and rich, bright and astonishingly long on the palate. Less forward than the Bressandes, but deep red fruit, concentration and gentle power are here in abundance.

A santé —Keith Wollenberg

ITALIAN WINES

The 1997 Brunello Riserva release is on its way, and they are really good! Greg spent a week in February tasting all of the Riserva in Montalcino and again in April. You know that points aren't the whole story, check out our website for Greg's detailed notes or ask for a copy of them in our stores. This isn't a vintage you'll want to miss! If you have any other questions about Italian wines, email Greg at Greg@klwines.com or call at ex 613; Jeff at ex 736; or Mike P at ex 360 in San Francisco. Sotto la Pergola Inclinata

In March I attended a wine event in Friuli, the Italian region squished up against the ex-Yugoslavian border, east of Venice. The weather was blissfully warm, and springtime filled the blue sky. The feeding-frenzy atmosphere of producers looking for buyers was in the air, and though I really felt that we already had enough direct imports from Friuli . . . well, there was just this one! I met Giovanni Blason at his little booth, a new winery just getting started from the Isonzo area north of Trieste, practically on the Slovenian border. He looked humble, reserved and hungry, which made me take my seat rather warily. I was immediately impressed, however, by his focus and organization, and shortly thereafter by his winemaking—and ultimately, by his pricing!

His straightforward 2002 Blason Pinot Grigio ($7.99) is delightful, classically Friulian in style with more emphasis on mineral and terroir but with a good dose of ripe fruit up front; 2002 is a great vintage for Friulian whites. Most of you who know me will think my buying the 2001 Blason "Bruma" Chardonnay ($9.99) and 2001 Blason "Comugna" Cabernet ($9.99) is pretty strange until you taste the wines. The chardonnay is partially barrel-fermented and the tank portion is all sur lie. It's a great blend of the two, balanced and drinkable, not woody but with some vanilla intrigue—just wonderful to drink. The cabernet is aged in 20hl French oak barrels where it gets character but is not overwhelmed by the wood. This wonderfully balanced wine has loads of ripe cherry, currant, anise and some woody aromatics and is drinkable now. Giovanni suggests "feathered game."

Giovanni's top offerings are two proprietary wines named "Venc" and "Vencjar." Vencjar is dialect for the local wild willow plant, whose willowy branches are used to hand tie the vine's fruiting canes. Both of these wines come from a tiny 3.7-acre vineyard planted in 1950. The 2001 Venc Bianco ($14.99) is 50% pinot bianco, 20% chardonnay, both tank fermented and aged sur lie, and 30% barrel-fermented chardonnay. The nose is fascinating, alternating between flower and fruit with hints of hazelnut and vanilla. Try it with sashimi! The 2001 Blason Vencjar ($17.99) is a blend of cabernet franc, cabernet sauvignon and merlot. It is layered with spicy red fruits, walnut and leather with sweet fine-grain tannins that come together in a supple, richly textured finish. Give them all a try!

AUSGEZEICHNET AUSTRIA

The best-laid plans often go awry—boats leaving, or in this case, not leaving with our precious cargo! At last our shipment from the Weingut Schmelz is here. Their 2002 Grüner Veltliner “Steinwand” Federspiel ($16.99) captured Falstaff’s annual Federspiel Cup as the Best Federspiel of the Vintage! (Falstaff is the Wine Spectator/Robert Parker of Austria.) This wine is simply sensational, the classic mineral focus of the Wachau with balance, white pepper and richness. The 2002 Schmelz GV “Pichl Point” SELEKTION Smaragd ($38.99) is just riveting—power, size, balance, richness, complexity, everything you could want in a powerful white wine without any masking oak flavors! The 2002 Schmelz GV “Hoherreck” Smaragd ($34.99) is stunningly direct with layers of complexity.

Mike’s Corner

Virna is one of our discoveries from this year’s VinItaly. The 2002 Dolcetto d’Alba ($11.99) is bright ruby-red with mauve highlights and a fruity bouquet reminiscent of red and wild blackberries, riper fruit, dry, elegant, well-balanced flavor, round and lingering. Try this with light soups or poultry.

The 2000 Barbera d’Alba ($11.99) is also bright ruby in color with an intense nose on which delicate vanilla and chocolate are just perceptible; dry, with a touch of black cherries, and balanced acidity contrasted with good structure. Best served with game, red meats or strong cheeses.

Trabucchi is yet another great find from VinItaly. The 1998 Amarone della Valpolicella ($49.99) is BIG, full bodied, with a dark ruby purple color. Its rollicking spice, touches of new leather and violets and deep plum-currant flavors add up to elegance. Works well with stews, game and ripe cheeses.

Also from Trabucchi, the 1998 Recioto Della Valpolicella ($27.99 500ml) with its raisin, prune and plum fruit, its density approaching the succulence of port and touches of mocha and lavender make it perfect accompaniment to intense dark chocolate desserts. YUM!!!

Ciao! Mike Parres

Join One of Our "Wine of the Month" Clubs

I love my job as director of the K&L Wine Clubs. I have been pleased to hear so many rave reviews from our Club members about our Club selections. Some people have to deal with customer complaints all day, but I get to listen to satisfied customers calling to re-order wine from their latest shipment. Yes, there is plenty of low-priced wine available these days, and there are values to be had at the mid-price range, too. Wine Club values, however, simply cannot be beat.

We are fortunate to be able to buy wines that are often made in limited quantities, offer complexity and interest, and, even if they can be found elsewhere for sale, they are much less expensive through our Wine Clubs. We research prices for any wine that we are thinking of purchasing for the Clubs, and make sure that no one else in the country offers the same wine for as low a price as we do. We also try very hard to strike a balance between unusual varietals, such as Grüner Veltliner, Riesling, Verdelho, and Nebbiolo, and more well-known wines like Cabernet Sauvignon and Chardonnay. K&L has always been known for offering low prices, but our Wine Clubs take that to a ridiculous level. Join today, and add your voice to the many Club members I'm fortunate enough to hear from every day!
