2004 Bordeaux:

“An Englishman's Vintage” or “Saved by the Bell”

What follows is a small part of our 2004 Bordeaux Vintage Report. The whole report and tasting notes (16 pages) are on our website, and hard copies are available in our stores.

Ralph, Trey, and I traveled to Bordeaux on Sunday the 3rd of April, not knowing what to expect in terms of quality for the 2004 Bordeaux vintage. We had each read Bill Blatch's vintage report several times (January 2005), and we had talked to several property owners and negociants in the last few months. We were getting contradictory stories. We knew the vintage had produced much more wine than 2001, 2002 or 2003. We had heard that the merlot crop was great from our friends on the right bank, and then that the cabernet crop was exceptional from our friends on the left bank. Also we left San Francisco with the knowledge that we still had large stocks of 2003 Bordeaux (a super vintage) to sell, that the dollar was very weak versus the Euro (1.30 $/Euro) and that the only way for us to sell 2004 futures would be if the release prices were lower than the current in-stock prices for 2001 and 2002 Bordeaux. This 2004 vintage really had to prove itself to us. As you will see from this report, the 2004 vintage proved to be much better than we anticipated. Again, much of this report weather-wise comes from the famous Bill Blatch report of January. Thanks Bill!

Overview
After the freakishly early 2003 vintage, the earliest harvest since 1893, we now have 2004, the latest harvest since 1988. Budding was a week later than the 30-year average, flowering two weeks later, the long spun-out véraison approximately 1½ weeks later, and the harvest nine days later for the merlot and 10 days later for the cabernets. That puts Continued on page 2...

Two Exciting Dinners in the Fall
Mark September 15 and October 25 on your calendars!

On September 15, we will have a Château Montelena dinner at the Ritz Carlton Half Moon Bay, with winemaker Bo Barrett. We will taste some fabulous Montelena wines going back quite a few years with a great five-course dinner. $225 per person.

Then on October 25 the "Fete de Bordeaux" dinner will be held at the Stanford Court Hotel in San Francisco. This dinner will feature the wines from the great 2003 vintage, and Anthony Barton will be our special guest (Rumors are that Jean Michel Cazes and Jean Guillaume Prats may also be in attendance). $190 per person.

Bordeaux Abounds!

From Clyde’s 2004 Bordeaux Report (page 1-2), and Ralph’s take on this classic vintage (page 4), there is lots to love!

Two of our Favorites

2001 Lancaster Alexander Valley Red ...........................................$54.99
An outstanding property, and this is their best to date. The 2001 Lancaster brims with aromas of wild berries, cassis, and violets. Ripe, black cherry and chocolate flavors, toasted oak nuances, and supple tannins combine to deliver a most balanced, and full bodied wine. Bottled unfiltered and unfined. 88% cabernet sauvignon, 8% merlot, 2% malbec, 1% cabernet franc and 1% petit verdot. Aged 22 months in French oak barrels (60% new).

2001 Pine Ridge "Stag's Leap District" Cabernet Sauvignon. $56.99
One of the best California Cabernets in the store! This wine is loaded with intense black cherry, red currants and cedar flavors which sit on a firm structure and are balanced by fine, ripe tannins. This is one for the cellar. 93 points from Robert Parker doesn’t hurt either.

June Bordeaux

This month I want to recommend a couple bargain wines from little known areas and two great second wines made by some of our favorite producers from the classic 1996 Bordeaux vintage.

2001 Seigneurs d’Aiguilhe, Cotes de Castillon ($11.99)
Stephan Von Neipperg (Canon La Gaffeliere, La Mondotte) makes this wine in a soft, rich, approachable style, and we just love its bang-for-the-buck ratio. Robert Parker calls the Cotes de Castillon area a “fertile hunting ground for a bevy of overachievers,” and says that you should be buying the wines of this exciting appellation before prices catch up to quality. We agree and urge you not to miss this SUPER VALUE!

2000 Lamothé Bergeron, Haut-Médoc ($16.99)
One of our best selling reds from Bordeaux’s best vintage ever is back in stock. This Cru Bourgeois is a rustic, hearty example of old-school wine making from the Cussac area just south of St-Julien. Nothing fancy here, just body, texture, richness and power—all at an affordable price. Decant and enjoy with hearty foods. This is your traditional Bordeaux bargain for the month.

1996 Pagodes de Cos d’Estournel, St-Stèphe ($34.99)
Cos d’Estournel produced one of the finest wines in 1996 so it is no surprise that they’re consistently delicious second wine is fantastic. Approaching 10 years of age, this is ready to drink now and not to be missed. Wine Spectator calls this the “Best 2nd wine of the vintage,” so act now before it’s all gone.

1996 Les Hautes de Pontet, Pauillac ($21.99)
Château Pontet-Canet’s rarely seen second wine is an amazing bargain. Smoky black cherry, plum, spice, herb and integrated tannin lead to a soft, long finish in this delicious wine. I’m stocking up on this, and you should too. Bordeaux lovers simply will not find a better value at this price. Sure to sell out quickly!

Crystal Clear Views in Bordeaux’s Murky Environment

The work of evaluating the 2004 vintage is now over for team K&L, but the work at the châteaux, even though the wine is made, is not done. As of this writing, the key element for the eventual success or failure of 2004 Bordeaux has not been decided by most of the great estates, and that is the price. The early indications are not good for the American wine buyer and our weak dollar, but it could change.

Ch. Gruaud-Larose, the fine second growth from St-Julien decided to come out and release its 2004 wine first—ahead of almost everyone in Bordeaux. Gruaud lowered its price 8% from the great vintage of 2003. We are selling it for $35.99, about $10 less than the 2003. I have been a huge fan of Gruaud since I started here in 1978, even though they made very mediocre wine from the early ’60s until the 1999 vintage. Since then they have been at the top of my list, making wines of superb ripeness, silky texture and lovely elegance, and I’ve sold it to all my clients briskly. I found the 2004 to be very tight and hard to evaluate. Perhaps it was the sample tasted. I will retry in September.

The reality is that 2004 is a pretty darn good vintage in Bordeaux—classic style with some great wines at the top level. I told a U.K. editor that prices have to fall 30-35% to have a successful campaign in America. Yes, the currency issue is part of it, but quality also counts quite a bit!

It is clear Bordeaux has another very good vintage and in the style it likes, classic! Firm, fresh and beautiful at the top level. I can’t remember a vintage with so many different opinions of which communes made the best wines. For me it was very clear, and in short it goes like this:

The first growths of Lafite, Latour and Haut-Brion are stunning as they are in the great vintages. The right bank, very spotty with Angelus, Cheval Blanc, Figeac, Pavie, Pavie-Decesse and the wines from the Comte Von Neippberg, Canon La Gaffeliere, Clos de l'Oratoire all outstanding. In Pomerol, L’Evangile, La Concella and Clinet are my favorites. In the Graves superlative efforts from Haut-Bailly, Domaine de Chevalier in the classic style and Pape-Clément in the new Pope...oops new-world style. Margaux itself and Palmer as always are stunning, with fine efforts from d’Issan, Brane-Cantenac and Cantenac-Brown. St-Julien is loaded with winners from Lafarga andléoville-Barton to Branaire and St. Pierre. Both Pichons are exceptional with the Comtesse making wine that reminds me of ´86 and ´96. Lynch-Bages is delicious as usual, and Pontet-Canet continues on a huge roll of superb quality and power. In St-Éstephe two great ones include Montrose, with its classic, bold and intense style and Cos d’Estournel which is very dark, rich, fleshy and exotic. Lastly, the beautiful elegant style of Phelan-Ségur continues to impress. All of these will make it into my cellar.

Also, In my opinion, there is some really good news to report about the dry white Bordeaux in 2004. They are very good and much better than 2002 or 2003.

Stepping back, I believe the 2003 Bordeaux will go down as one of the greats of our lifetime for red wines. They were and are expensive, but if you have buyer’s remorse, loose it and treasure them. If you have any older Bordeaux in your collection, you have done very well, as the shelves in the old and rare section at K&L have never looked so bare, and our resources in Bordeaux reflect the same. That’s not to say fine older vintages are not out there, but the prices are extremely high, so treasure what you have.

By the time you are reading this hopefully all the 2004 prices will be out, and we will have very good wines to sell at fair prices for the quality. Our complete Vintage Report with notes is up on the Bordeaux page of our website. If you would like a copy of my personal notes and a list of the wines I thought were the best in order of preference, just contact me at ex 2723 or at Ralph@klwines.com. Cheers and Go Giants!

Tasting Bar Schedule for June, 2005.

All tastings are from noon to 3 p.m. in San Francisco and 1 to 4 p.m. in Redwood City. For further information about other monthly tastings and dinners, please see our website at www.klwines.com and click on the “local events” bar.

Saturday, June 4: Champagne! We start out the month on a festive note. Gary will pop his favorite new releases and wonderful best buys from small producers. A new shipment of Champagne has arrived, and we are ready liven things up. Ten wines to be poured. Price TBA.

Saturday, June 11: Bordeaux. Clyde, Ralph, Steve and Alexandre pool their opinions and bring out the latest and greatest from Bordeaux. Our continuing exploration of the 2002 vintage sails full steam ahead! Ten wines to be poured, including eight red, one white and one Sauternes. Tasting price TBA.

Saturday, June 18: California Rhône Wines in Redwood City. Rosé Tasting/Cheese Pairing in San Francisco. In Redwood City, Trey and Martin pick out their favorite California Rhône-based varietals to please your palate and stain your teeth. Ten wines. Tasting price TBA. In San Francisco, now that summer has arrived (hopefully, with sun), our Rosé selection had quadrupled. It is time to taste the Rosés of summer! No white zinfandels here! Expect quality wines of interesting varietals from around the globe and cheeses paired specifically for these wines. Ten wines to be poured. Tasting price TBA.

Saturday, June 25: Germany and Austria. To celebrate the beginning of summer, Jeff and Eric pick their favorites from Germany and Austria to combat the heat. We will focus upon the 2003 vintage from Germany and will be looking at great Grüners and other wines from Austria. Ten wines to be poured. Tasting price TBA.

OLD AND RARE PORT

1950 Kopke Colheita ..........................$299.00
1958 Warre .................................$179.00
“An outstanding port, with the caramel overtones of great colheita intermingled with the bright, ripe and deep red and black fruit flavours of vintage port. Vibrant and youthful, both on the nose and in the mouth, with a nice spicery kick on the end palate. A very rare vintage to find at all, let alone in quantity. Procured from a well known private collector who has taken great pains to insure perfect storage. Fabulous!”  Joe Zueider

I ♥ Minervois!

I must admit, I love a good Minervois! So much in fact, that here at K&L, we have what some might consider a disproportionately large number of wines (4) from this Languedoc appellation. What can I say, I am a sucker for lush and rich mineral-driven reds, and this region seems to produce a great number of these wines. This month I am very excited to present to you the wines of a relatively new domaine, Laireau des Lys.

After searching for several years in the region, David Pamies and Danielle Khalkhal bought 12 hectares of vines on the upper slopes of the Minervois surrounded by the garrigue in the future cru of La Caunette (Stony, limestone soils, with a hot and dry climate in summer, and cold and persistent winds in the winter). They have spared no effort to produce the best possible wine their very first vintage—working the soil by hand (no chemical fertilizers, pesticides or weed-killers), short pruning, hand harvesting, severe selection of the grapes in the vineyard and at the cellar door, de-stemming of the bunches and fermentation with natural yeasts. In fact, David Pamies believes so firmly in the benefits of hygiene in the vineyard and cellar operations that during pruning the shears are cleaned with an antiseptic between each vine so that there is no possibility of transporting maladies from one plant to another! A recent Revue du Vin de France selected them as on of the top four domains in the Minervois.

The 2001 Lauraire des Lys "Loriza" ($11.99) is composed tank-fermented syrah and grenache along with a touch of carignan and cinsault (vinified through carbonic aceration), which lends the cuvee a bit of levity and brightness. The end result? An elegant wine redolent with boysenberries, moist earth and lavender. The wine finishes with an element of mineral drive too, all of which makes the Loriza one of the best examples of terroir, flavor and value here at K&L. I hope that you will have the opportunity to try the Loriza or perhaps one of the other great wines that we carry from the Minervois!

FRENCH REGIONAL

2004 Château Routas Rosé .................$9.99
Refreshing dry rosé for summer sipping.
2003 Mas de Guiot .........................$10.99
Grenache-syrah blend that exhibits tons of violets, backcurrant and licorice spice.
Tremendous bang for the buck with overflowing flavors of blackberry, spice and chocolate.
2001 Corbieres, Cuvee Henri Serres $13.99
Syrah and carignan. It is at once rich and well-balanced, exhibiting nuances of black currant, bitter-sweet chocolate and espresso bean.
2001 Mathieu Cosse “Le Petit Sid” Cahors ............................................16.99
After an hour of decanting, this unfiltered wine begins to elicit nuances of espresso bean, crushed rock mineral and cassis.

Trey’s June Picks

The day after we returned from Bordeaux I attended a tasting in SF of 50 to 75 domestic wines. I tried to focus on as many 2002 Cabernets as I could. The vintage seems to have high overall quality with the same intensity of fruit as the ’01s with a bit less tannin. The ’02s are a bit sweeter and flashier in the mouth right now than the ’01s, which are firmer and seem to have a bit more structure. I think the ’02s will be wines that will mature faster than ’01s and will show well right out of the gate.

One of my picks is the 2002 Justin Paso Robles Isosceles ($44.99). This wine shows lush, sweet blackberries and black currants in the mouth with hints of red licorice, spice, raspberry jam and toasty oak. The tannins are supple and silky, and the finish is long. Another 2002 Cab that impressed the heck out of me was the 2002 Chimney Rock “Stag’s Leap District” Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($44.98). This wine is super concentrated and jam-packed with dark mocha, spice and sweet herbs flavors. It should age 10+ years but will show well now with some air. A winner in the under $25 category is the 2002 Simi Alexander Valley Cabernet Sauvignon ($21.99). Deliciously fresh and bright, this wine is soft and fleshy in the mouth with a spicy finish. An excellent pick for those summer barbecues. I was also quite impressed with the 2002 Simi Sonoma Chardonnay ($12.99). Not being a fan of heavy, over-oaked Chardonnays, I thought this wine showed a nice balance and lots of clean ripe fruit. The final 2002 Cab I recommend this month is the newly released 2002 Darioush Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($59.99). Almost as big as the bottle it comes in, the Darioush is a deep, dark and chewy Cab that is big and rich in the mouth with a lingering finish of spice and cedar. I would drink this wine while you wait for the 2001 to mature.

San Francisco Focus

Next up on my small winery focus is Paradigm Vineyards. The winery, located in Oakville, California, was founded in 1976 by Ren and Marilyn Harris. Since the beginning the wines have been made by Napa legend Heidi Peterson Barrett. The wines are all estate fruit and the production is about 5000 cases per year. This is a level at which the winery would like to stay and only represents 30% of total grapes grown on the property. The rest of the fruit is sold off to premium wineries in the area. The wines show the quality that comes with many of our state’s small wineries: passion for winemaking. We currently have three Paradigm wines in stock:

2001 Paradigm Cabernet Sauvignon ($49.99)

One of the last 2001 Cabs to be released and one of my favorites, a wine that spent 20 months in French oak and an additional 20 months in bottle. A rich, concentrated Cabernet with great balance of fruit and soft tannin. Elegant and silky, this wine should drink well for the next 10 years. Includes 3% merlot and 3% cabernet franc. 4505 cases.

2001 Paradigm Merlot ($38.99)

I’m never one to push the merlot grape but this one is worth the money. Soft and forward with hints of spice and very soft tannins, this is how merlot should be. 5% cabernet sauvignon, 2% cabernet franc. 966 cases.

2001 Paradigm Zinfandel ($29.99)

My kind of Zinfandel! A balanced and concentrated wine, with black pepper and lush raspberry fruit with just a hint of oak. Great structure with reasonable alcohol levels, a Zinfandel fan’s dream. With 2% cabernet sauvignon. 274 cases produced.

See you in the City…

Bonny Doon, the One and Only!

The 2004 Vin Gris de Cigare ($9.99), made from free run juice from the Cigare Volante (grenache, mourvedre, etc) is reminiscent of the great rosés of southern France. Gorgeous dry strawberry and cherry fruit, mouthwatering with great acidity, delicate wafts of herbs and a clear bright finish. Not just for sipping, pair this with a dinner of grilled fish, a Nicoise salad, or nibbles before. Put your corkscrew back in the drawer along with any silly preconceptions about rosé!

2003 Le Pousseur Syrah ($12.99) makes the heck out of me was the 2002 Le Cigare Blanc ($17.99) is in the style of a white Rhône (roussanne and a bit of grenache blanc). It’s sexy and showy without noticeable oak, yet rich and substantial. It is super textural and a fantastic replacement for a chardonnay. A solid core of apricot and apricot stone are complimented by honeysuckle blossoms, delicate peach and stony minerals. I can think of few better wines to just sit on the patio with or pair with crab cakes or a lobster tail.

2003 Le Cigare Blanc ($17.99) shows a spectacular perfumed intensity on the nose with rare-steak meatiness. Brambly black fruits are the dominant themes here, backed up by bright highlights and silkiness. Have the grill warmed up and throw on some venison, beef, lamb, or a thickly sliced Portobello mushroom.

One more I have to fit in, the 2003 Sangiovese “Il Fiasco” ($11.99) is a spectacular success! Dense black cherry, mulberry, sweet licorice and tarry notes, mouth coating and modern, this wine bursts out of the glass and fills your senses. The surprising thing about all this is the supple and smooth feel, not lacking in acidity, but never hard or tannic. Like the syrah, the wine makes a nod toward its European roots, yet never loses sight of its new world home.

Spotlight on an Icon

Every week it seems there is a new Napa producer coming out with over-priced, underwhelming wines conjured up with a lot of money, little talent, and way too much ego. An $80 Cab out the gates with no track record? I think not! Flora Springs is a producer that I applaud for concurrently making some of the greatest and fairly-priced wines in California for over 20 years. Avoiding the hype and letting the wine do the speaking, that’s my kind of wine! I usually review only three wines, but this time, all four I tasted recently demand attention:

In the midst of a hot-button category like Sauvignon Blanc, the 2002 Flora Springs “Soliloquy” ($17.99) has plenty of things to get excited about. This sharp, juicy 100% sauvignon blanc displays a firm sleek body and an incredible finish; Ay caramba. I had this with shrimp scampi, and it was perfect! Next the 2002 Flora Springs Napa Merlot ($17.99) has become my go-to, no-questions-asked, slam-dunk choice for Merlots under 20 bucks. Exquisitely fine with soft dark fruit, this is a real treat. Can Napa really offer a no-frills, iron-clad Cabernet value for around 20 bucks? You bet! Right now, there is hardly a better buy for a twenty-buck chuck than the fragrant and delicious 2001 Flora Springs Napa Cabernet Sauvignon ($21.99).

Finally, the classic 2001 Flora Springs Napa “Trilogy” ($44.99) possesses the fantastically attractive quality of being drinkable upon release and yet will age effortlessly for 10+ years. Recently, a 1994 shocked me with its youth, but then this 2001 is sooo good right now! Were I to open a wine store in France and be forced to carry only a handful of what we offer now, this beauty would undoubtedly be on that list. The elegance is captivating, the pedigree is undeniable, and the affordability for greatness makes this wine an unquestionable choice for both your table and cellar. Enjoy!

June, Swoon, Honeymoon
2003 Cellers Gramona Gessami blanco ($10.99) Oh my! This charming white wine from the Penedes is the ultimate summertime sipper! From the aromas of white peach and tropical flavors to the long, crisp finish, the Gessami is the “pause that refreshes.” It’s perfect with spicy dishes or maybe seafood with mango salsa.

2002 Cellers Gramona Grand Cuvee ($16.99) I love this Cava! This sparkling wine dances on the palate with fresh apple flavors and a wonderful creaminess. Aging for 2.5 years on the lees gives this wine great depth and complexity. This bubbly will be great for parties, brunches or just because you want to drink something yummy!

2002 Clos des Andes Malbec, Argentina ($18.99) The Bordelais are invading Mendoza and making great wines, too! Made from a blend of 90% malbec and 10% cabernet, the Clos des Andes is a true expression of the remarkable 2002 vintage. From the big, ripe fruit on the palate to the long focused finished, this red is very stylish and deep. Make some room on the barbacoa for a big juicy steak!

2001 Logos I, Navarra ($24.99) Amador Escudero is a 4th-generation winemaker from the Rioja region. The Logos project is his first effort for wines from Navarra. After the great success of his ValSacros Dioio (96 points Parker), I was anxious to try his latest release. Made from a blend of 40-45% garnacha (very old vines, 70+ years), 30% tempranillo (50-year-old vines) and 25-30% cabernet sauvignon (25-year-old vines), this red shows all the bold expression of “New Style” Spanish wines with big, ripe fruit and new oak. I was totally impressed with the dense, rich body and long finish. Enjoy the Logos with chuletas de cordero a la barbacoa (a.k.a. grilled lamb chops).

Buen Cata!

Jim C’s View Down Under
2003 Seven Terraces Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc New Zealand ($12.99) Winemaker John Belsham, who started his wine studies in Bordeaux, has been gaining press with his wines under the Foxes Island label. This is his debut with the “second tier,” and price-point driven Seven Terraces Sauvignon Blanc. Sourced mainly from the estate vineyard in Awatere Valley and some purchased fruit, the wine shows notes of lime blossom, grapefruit, minerals and a powdery texture. Fine balance, precision and acidity leads to a long finish.

2004 Kennedy Point Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc New Zealand ($15.99) The style is meant to be a richer, though unoaked Kiwi Sauvignon with lower acidity, but not flabby, with notes of wild fruits, tropical fruits and figs. On the palate, the wine is round and has good texture that will go with seafood and salad starters.

2004 Neudorf Nelson Sauvignon Blanc New Zealand ($16.99) I’m a fan of Neudorf, if only because it has such a different personality from Marlborough Sauvignon Blans. The wine, from Nelson, comes from two different vineyard sites. Motueka, the cooler vineyard for perfume, lime and gooseberry. Brightwater, for passion fruit and more tropical nuances.

2003 Amisfield Central Otago Pinot Noir New Zealand ($27.99) Amisfield has produced another fine Pinot from the new darling child region, Central Otago. The bouquet offers lovely aromatics of plum, cherry and notes of clove spice. On the palate there are more broad fruit flavors of currants and blackberry with great texture and acidity giving a juicy long finish to this impressive newcomer of Central Otago producers. Try this with salmon, seared ahi or grilled lamb. 91 points from the Wine Spectator! Cheers! —Jim Chanteloup

The 15th Page Man: The Farmers

Finally things are starting to trickle in from Europe, and some of the “hard” work we’ve done is coming to fruition. This month we are extremely pleased to offer you not one but two very special wines from the Rheingau. Our great friends Johannes Leitz and Andreas and Bernd Spreitzer have bottled exclusively for K&L two Spätlesen from the wonderfully refreshing 2004 vintage. There are about 200 cases of each wine, both carry a unique AP #, and both have been in the works since early fall of 2004. It is pretty well known that these guys are making some of the best wines in Germany, so I will refrain from showering them yet again with praise. Let us just say that these small farmers from the Rheingau make some darn good juice. This will also keep their expanding German noggins from getting too large and not fitting into the Mercedes.

From the Brothers Spreitzer I asked for a wine that showed not only the elegance and supple fruity character of Oestrich but also for a wine with a bit of authority, some firmness, some snap, and I tell you they delivered. The 2004 Weingut Spreitzer Oestricher Doosberg Spätlese ($18.99) is spicy and juicy, full of violet and iris aromas, very clean and polished with a tangy, and yes, snappy mouthfeel. The firmness I hoped for is there albeit in the background and helps to sharpen the flavors and add length to this most charming of wines. You can drink this wine now and over the next 20 years or so.

Now, from Mr. Leitz the 2004 Rüdesheimer Klosterlay Spätlese ($18.99), from just behind the village, is again like the 2002, a small lot of a later picking that is intensely fragrant full of sweet herbs, lavender and grapefruit peel. This one is high toned and vibrant on the palate with a refreshing raciness and minerality that begs you to drink more. A very precise and balanced wine with clean flavors and a long spicy finish. In addition we are offering these wines to our wine of the month Club members at a reorder price of $13.99. See the back page for more info. Many thanks to all the people along the way who made this happen, you know who you are!! Live in the light.

This is Living!!!

June, to me, represents the official start of BBQ season. I jump at the chance, whenever possible, to spend time with good friends, cooking, eating and of course putting a dent in a few bottles of wine. For me this is living! These are the romantic thoughts that run through my head during the cold, rainy winter months. I think of the simple things, such as a nice juicy burger and sausage sandwiches. I also think of things like porterhouse steaks crusted with fresh garden herbs, baby back ribs glazed with a blackberry sauce, or a fresh mahi mahi steak with salt, pepper, and a squeeze of lemon. And to wash all of this down, I have selected four, extremely versatile wines, two reds and two whites, which would only enhance and add to the experience.

2002 Iby Blaufränkisch Hochäcker ($17.99) This wine shows wonderful aromas of Bing cherries, red berry fruit, smoke and spice. The palate continues to show more cherries with black berries and a hint of vanilla in its long and rich finish. Although dry, the lovely fruitiness and soft, ripe tannins make this just a pleasure to drink.

2003 Iby Zweigelt Classic ($12.99) Zweigelt (a crossing of Blaufränkisch and another Austrian red, St. Laurent) is the Austrian equivalent of a good spicy Côtes du Rhône. Lots of berry notes and mild tannins make it a fun summer wine when paired with foods from the grill. It is light enough for picnics, too!

2002 Weingut Schmelz Riesling “Stein am Rain” Federspiel ($17.99) Dip into juicy aromas of orange blossom, which lead to a wine that dances lightly across the palate, full of spice, minerality, and then leave you with a bright, clean, dry finish. A well-needed, refreshing pleasure during the hot months.

2002 Peter Schandl Pinot Blanc ($14.99) This Pinot Blanc showcases a classic Burgundian bouquet, delicate and spicy, strong on the palate, muscular yet balanced with pronounced fruit and racy acidity that carries through to the long and spicy finish which seems to keep going, and going till the next sip.

The Royal Wedding, Well Priced Bordeaux, Gratuitous Barr

As you read this, the owner’s daughter will have been married and I will have been there to kiss butt, drop names and drink lots of wine. Here is my humble prediction of how it will have gone:

Ah, Arizona! No spring training to deal with—what a relief. No buckets of beer in ice or drinks and baseball gossip at the Pink Pony. Thank God none of those distractions are here. Yeah, thanks a whole bunch. Anyway, I can focus on the important things: watching wedding cake figurines actually get married, spill Bordeaux on an elegant gown, swallow canapes down the wrong pipe.

But enough of that. Let’s go behind the scenes and see how the bride is doing: Kerri Beffa (that’s Clyde’s daughter…we used to paint the K&L bathrooms together, eggplant and satin were our specialties) is midway into her second bottle of 1993 Léoville-Barton ($39.99). She really likes three things about it: how elegant and balanced it is, how wonderful it would be with food (if she could keep anything down), and a price so reasonable for a wine about to his teenage years. And of course, the 12.5% alc/vol is working its magic. Thank goodness there are three more bottles within reach.

But the time has come, and she is splashed with cold water and made to stand upright. Here we go…the Church is hot, humid and packed. But this is Arizona so it is a dry heat. K&L co-owner Todd Zucker shuffles back up onto the hillsides and an icy cold air mass moving in on top of it, which freezes the leaves in an ice-fog type condition. According to valley natives, this happens every twenty years or so. In any case, when all the infant vines recover they will be four to six weeks behind a normal Anderson Valley harvest time. Therefore, we cannot expect a three-year-old vineyard to be able to produce a ripe crop this year. Any clusters that might try to form in the near future must be dropped. Next year, for sure!

With the ending of spring and advent of summer, there is no better wine to consume at lunch than Rosé, particularly those beautifully dry Rosés from France, Italy and Spain. One our favorite Rosés to be had each year is the estate bottling of 2004 Rosé de Calon (Calon-Ségur) ($11.99), with its brilliant pink color and its absolutely wonderful aromatics, which can best be described as the essence of strawberries. In the mouth, this clean, crisp, very dry, mouthwatering Rosé explodes with fruit and would be a perfect match for a lox and bagel lunch. The bad news is that this lovely wine is now available in limited quantities. The good news is that it is fairly priced. So, if you wait, the K&L staff will have purchased all of it. Anderson and Eby have told me that we need at least two cases at our home for the summer. ( )

When Keith Wollenberg returned from his buying trip to Burgundy last month, he informed us that there were some brilliant wines made in ’03. When the 2003 Domaine des Nembrets (Denis Barraud) St-Veran ($13.99) finally arrived this week, it was quite clear upon sampling this incredible gem that he understated the superb quality of the wines. I sampled an opened bottle of this lush, viscous St-Veran over a two-day span, and it just kept getting better and better. I came to the conclusion that this was not your standard, simple, run-of-the-mill Mâcon. In fact, it might be one of the best St-Verans I have had the pleasure to put under my nose and in my mouth. Aromas fill the nasal passages with white peach and nectarine underscored by a lovely, intense minerality. In the mouth, those components carryover in a broad, viscous (I wrote that word on my tasting sheet four times), ripe set of characteristics that has elegance as well as power. Eby says this will be our house white for many months to come. ( )

A new shipment of 2000 Château de Birot Premières Côtes Bordeaux ($10.99) has arrived, and it has evolved nicely over time. There is tons of structure with broad, complex fruit characteristics. Deeply colored, it provides a roasted coffee bean to cassis nose with hints of cedar, while on the palate it is soft and round with a long, lingering, warm finish. Do not hide this gem in your cellar; it is vinified and meant for near-term enjoyment. ( )

Finally, one of our favorite wines in the store has returned, the 2004 Marisma Sangiovese ($7.49), or as the K&L staff refers to it, “The Four Old Guys.” This is an amazing wine at a dirt cheap price. Bright, fleshy, this gem offers tons of spicy, sangiovese fruit with good fullness and incredible drinkability. Enough said! Buy your cases now! ( )

Jim’s June Gems

“Welcome to farming.” This was the final comment that Steve Williams, owner of Anderson Valley Viticultural Services Company (who has planted and helped to maintain our vineyard the last two years) had to say to me after our vineyard was “frosted out” two weeks ago. It was a climatic experience in the valley that involves valley fog backing up onto the hillsides and a icy cold air mass moving in on top of it, which freezes the leaves in an ice-fog type condition. According to valley natives, this happens every twenty years or so. In any case, when all the infant vines recover they will be four to six weeks behind a normal Anderson Valley harvest time. Summer Picks from the Rhone!

2003 Vignerons Beaumes de Venise Côtes du Rhône Rosé, “Toques” ($6.99) A dynamite Rosé that is almost TOO affordable! A blend of 80% grenache, 10% cinsault and 10% syrah. A lush, powerful nose of fresh strawberries, fennel and anise. Fleshy in the mouth with strawberry and raspberry fruit. Elegant spices that balance the full fruit. A perfect summer wine!

2001 Domaine Girasols, Rasteau ($15.99) A blend of 65% grenache, 10% syrah, 12% cinsault and 13% mourvèdre. Wonderful spicy characteristics with assertive black pepper. However, the rich Syrah fruit shines through to make this wine at once spicy, and then, lush and rich. A lovely, full finish of black fruits that is warm and lingering. Superb structure!

Ultra Brut from Tarlant!

Tarlant has been at the Champagne business for a while, since 1687! And although they have a healthy respect for tradition, they are also one of the most innovative growers in Champagne. The winery at Tarlant is one of the best designed and managed that I have seen anywhere in the world. I think that only Ridge here in California has a comparable level of attention to detail and preoccupation with keeping every little parcel separate. Almost half of my tasting book last year was filled at Tarlant! They have 32.5 acres that they divide into 50 different plots. Since most of these plots have all three varieties on them, that adds up to about 150 vinifications. On top of that they use new, second use, third use and neutral barrels! It makes for a wide variety of blending material to say the least. They also have four generations (Benoit, who was born in ’76, his father Jean-Mary, grandfather Georges, and great grandfather Louis) of winemakers to argue about how to assemble that material! That debate, with the up-to-the-minute training of Benoit and the fantastic perspective of the older generation is an important part of what makes these wines great. They are located in the village of Oeuilly in the heart of the valley of the Marne and almost their entire vineyard is planted there, with a small, contiguous parcel in the neighboring village of Boursalt. The wines all undergo barrel ageing, mostly completely neutral. They also ferment a proportion in oak. The wines never undergo malolactic fermentation.

We carry three wines from Tarlant, the Tarlant Cuvee Louis Brut Prestige (39.99), the Tarlant Brut Reserve ($26.99) and the Tarlant Brut Zero ($26.99). I would like to highlight the Zero, which is the only no-sugar-added Champagne that we stock. It is identical to the Reserve in every way except for the dosage—the Reserve receives 6.2 grams of sugar per liter of Champagne and the zero, well zero! Most Champagne that has no dosage is to harsh for drinking by itself, but Tarlant grapes get the ripeness that they need to stand on their own. If you love dry Champagne, it is a must. I’ve called this my desert island Champagne for years, and the new cuvee is the best yet. Made from a combination of 2000, 1999 and 1998 harvests, with more than four years on the lees, this is a gorgeously gulpable Champagne! The composition is pinot noir (1/3), pinot meunier (1/3) and chardonnay (1/3), and the balance is excellent. I have found it to be particularly well suited to pairing with sushi. We buy Tarlant from Benoit Tarlant, and this direct purchasing allows us to offer this ambitious Champagne as one of the best values in our stock.

Loire, Alsace and Beyond: Baur, Becker, Back!!

Back in stock is our favorite Domaine Charles Baur Cremant d’Alsace ($14.99). The price went up a buck thanks to our flagging dollar, but this wine is still a steal. This beautiful sparkling wine is a blend of pinot blanc (40%), auxerrois (40%) and chardonnay (20%) with a fine bead, rich and creamy texture and an exuberant fruity nose that make it the perfect bottle for parties, weddings or at home as an aperitif or with lighter meals. From the same estate we have the 2002 Charles Baur Pinot Blanc ($10.99), which is light, delicate and refreshing, sans wood and is just an all around charming and very food friendly dry white. There are small quantities of 2002 Charles Baur Gewurztraminer Grand Cru Pfersigberg ($19.99), which comes from one of the most famous Grand Cru vineyards of Alsace for Gewurztraminer. Its calcareous soil gives the wine elegance, finesse and freshness in addition to the richer attributes commonly found in this wine, such as aromas of rose, lychee and candied fruit.

From Becker in Zellenberg we just received new vintages of Troeoh Muscat and Gewurztraminer. The Grand Cru Troeoh vineyard, directly behind the domaine, is south-south-east facing, fairly steep and sits on a bed of white limestone with some clay and schistous marl. It is a great site for both these aromatic varietals. The 2003 Jean Philippe & Francois Becker Muscat Grand Cru Troeoh ($17.99) is a smoulder-ing beauty that jumps in your arms and seduces you with zesty orange aromas of rose, lychee and candied fruit.

What else? Do be prepared to listen to me rant and rave about the ’04 vintage in Muscadet, from all accounts it could be the, dare I say it, “vintage of the century.” As you read this I am preparing to leave for the Loire, and as soon as I am off the plane I am heading for Muscadet country. More on that later! Email me at jeffvierra@klwines.com and get on my special Loire Valley/Austrian/German/Other weird stuff email list to be informed of life-changing happenings in the wine world like the ’04 vintage in Muscadet. I really am serious, don’t laugh… All the best, happy to be here!

A Quick Report from Burgundy

This month I am taking a bit of space to tell you a bit about my March trip to Burgundy. As you know, we are always looking for top-quality unknown producers, not yet available in the U.S. In terms of finding those folks, this was a particularly successful trip. One of the up-and-coming areas in Burgundy is the newest appellation, St. Bris. It is the only sauvignon blanc-based appellation in all of Burgundy. It is located in the region known as the Auxerrois in the North, just across the Autoroute from Chablis. This is a fascinating area. The cold nights give excellent acidity to the wines and an almost New Zealand note on the nose, while the Kimmeridgian limestone soils give the wines a minerality similar to Chablis. We found a small husband-and-wife team, called Domaine Anne and Arnaud Goisot. In addition to their wonderful St. Bris, they also make a delightful Auxerrois Rosé of Pinot Noir, as well as a crisp and wonderful Bourgogne Aligoté. Look for their wines soon at K&L.

Much further south, in the Macon, we visited Denis Barraud, a young producer in Vergisson and proprietor of Domaine des Niblets. His 2003s are already here, and I was even more impressed with his 2004s, which will be spectacular and will be arriving later in the year. Finally, another tiny producer to watch for is Domaine des Niales. Marie-Therese redon-Marin and her son make only one wine, a Macon Villages. The presence of a recent graduate form the lysee viticole, combined with the practical experience of five generations of wine-making, in the area since 1865, is a formidable combination. Their wine is concentrated and focused, with lots of life and character and will be another to watch for.

Sotto La Pergola Inclinata

Twice this April I traveled to the Italian peninsula. Once for Vinitaly in Verona, its usual whirlwind of craziness, thousands of anxious producers looking for you to buy their products, and as always too much to taste. The rising Euro vs. the U.S. $ has caused problems everywhere but insightful producers and enterprising importers still allow us the opportunity to bring great wine to you at even lower prices. For example this year’s 2000 Poggiarello Brunello di Montalcino ($29.99) is really good and at a price of many Rosso di Montalcino! A very good friend and I finished the trip off with a rather brazen “what the hell” ascent on three Dolomite mountain passes from the Alto Adige to the Veneto above 7260’ while hoping the snow wouldn't get too heavy for our tiny, no chains and no snow tire rent a car. We capped off the traverse with lunch and a bottle of Prosecco in Conegliano, a very rewarding experience.

My second trip to Italy with a three-day break in between (don’t even bother to ask why, it was crazy but really worth it), was a tour of K&L’s direct imports: Friuli to Piedmont to Tuscany. We stopped first at Ermacora in Iplis, a tiny fraction of the Colli Orientali del Friuli just scant kilometers from the Slovenian border, where the 2004 whites were marvelous (especially the Tocai Friuliano), and the reds are incredible—spicy, focused, ripe but balanced. This year we delayed some of the shipment of the 2003 whites to coincide with the release of the 2003 reds that have just arrived. The whites always do better with more time in the bottle, and they are really showing well now! 2003 Ermacora Tocai Friulano ($13.99) is very rich, unoaked, balanced with delicate acidity and scintillating aromas of bitter almonds, apple and ripe pear highlighted by hints of tarragon. The 2003 Ermacora Pinot Grigio ($14.99) is powerful, deep, concentrated with a lush feel on the palate, Pinot Grigio as it should be. The 2003 Ermacora Pinot Bianco ($14.99) has tremendous focus and concentration, rich and creamy, with custard-like flavors and hints of apples, bergamot and orange peel. 2003 was a torridly hot and difficult summer in Europe, but for Friuli where reds are more difficult to get ripe it was a breakout year. The 2003 Ermacora Merlot ($14.99) shows cocoa and spice on the palate, giving way to fine grain tannins and a delicate and lingering finish. The 2003 Ermacora Refosco ($15.99) has a perfect balance of ripeness, powerful cassis-like fruit and layers of spice and earth. The 2001 Ermacora RIL ($21.99) is a “Super Friulian” made of 60% merlot, 20% refosco and 20% cabernet sauvignon aged in 1/3 new French barriques. The nose is a complex blend of chocolate with hints of vanillin and layers of spice, stone, mineral and fruits. The merlot dominates the broad palate with a sweet, warm ripeness. The cabernet and refosco fall in right behind adding spice, black pepper and pencil shavings while hints of sweet vanillin remains on the palate in a long and vibrant finish, unfortunately only 30 cases imported. — Greg St Clair

Mike’s BBQ Wines

2001 Castello di Monterosso Chianti Superiore ($10.95) If you’re wondering what to serve Dad this Father’s Day, I’d say start with this well-priced sangiovese from Lionello Marchesi (He was the first winemaker to possess vineyards and wineries in all three Tuscan DOCGs) This is soft and easy-drinking Chianti. Black cherries are the first thing to hit your nose. They follow thru on the palate with a hint of coco powder on the finish. Prefect with grilled eggplant and pork ribs

2002 Castello di Monterosso Chianti Classico ($13.95) Also from our friend Lionello, this Chianti has great complexity with cherry, vanilla, blueberries and tobacco. The finish is earthy, peppery and long. 85% sangiovese goso plus merlot and cabernet, spending six months in French Troncais oak. Pork roast with this baby.

Villa the Prata was constructed on the site of an older structure built in 1862 for the Count Carlo de Vecchi as a hunting lodge. In 1982 today’s owners came into possession, and in the following years created a small winery. The 2001 Villa the Prata Rosso di Montalcino ($19.99) is intensely bright with red currant, cherry and cassis, coupled with firm tannins and welcome acidity.

A gift for Dad? Only if you’re around to share! The 1998 Villa le Prata Brunello di Montalcino ($39.99) got Two full glasses from Gambero Rosso: “...simply splendid, and if it didn’t win Three glasses it wasn’t by much. The intense ruby with purplish highlights already gives you some idea of the riches in store, and the abundant, wide-ranging nose in fact delivers varietal ripe sour cherry and blackberry followed by distinct oak-derived balsamic and spicy tones that never mask the underlying fruit. The excellent palate reveals great richness and an astonishing progression nicely underpinned by fine-grained, but never intrusive, tannins.” Salute!

—Mike Parres
Nothing is better than artisanal high quality spirits and we are happy to have Leopold Gourmel back in the store! —Susan Purnell

Why Leopold Gourmel? Because they assume that the better the wine is, the better the cognac. The more natural the wine is, the more expressive the cognac. They do not blend the vintages. They are the only pure and natural cognac that does not add caramel for color, wood juice to fake the age or sugar.

Leopold Gourmel Cognac Premieres Saveurs 6 Carats ..............$37.99
Visual: Soft gold; The Nose: Fresh, supple, white fruits (pear, white peach), never bitter; The Taste: Pure clean, intense, a refreshing long-lasting finish; Features: The introduction into the world of the only pure and natural cognac. Because the wine is richer and stronger, the “fat” distillation retains the beautiful aromas and concentrates the richness into the spirits. The perfect example of delicacy and finesse, not aggressive, not caramelized, not artificially woody; Distiller’s Note: “I am so proud of my 6 year old cognac that I nick-named it Le P’tit Gourmel in other words the Gourmel Kid.”

Leopold Gourmel Cognac Age du Fruit 10 Carats ......................$63.99
Visual: Pale gold; The Nose: Delicate bitterness, fresh almond, richer, more matured; The Taste: Thicker, more oily, longer, in the cheeks, all the way to the throat, beautiful return, preserved fruits, citrus, apricot, orange zest, lemon peel; Features: The maturity, more structured, with a hidden strength that makes the cognac last and remains meat, clean, straight. A rich and natural expression, not aggressive, not caramelized, not artificially woody; Distiller’s Note: “Sommelier’s and Wine lovers’ favorite cognac.”

Leopold Gourmel Cognac Age des Fleurs 15 Carats ......................$76.99
Visual: Fine gold; The Nose: Warmer, balanced, floral vanilla from the wood, white flowers (rose, jasmine, lilies); The Taste: Warm and rich on the first part of the palate, silky on the tongue, velvet on the throat, deep in the stomach with a return of honeysuckle and lime tree flowers; Features: Cognac lovers will love this cognac that reminds them of their traditional brand but with much more elegance, far deeper finish, more complexity in an un-caramelized world; Distiller’s Note: “Our cellar master’s favorite cognac.”

Leopold Gourmel Cognac Age d’Epices 20 Carats ......................$134.99
Visual: Old gold; The Nose: Round, with a sweetness from the wood, honey, old leather; The Taste: Rich, and powerful, rolling in the palate, opening slowly, spicy on the tongue, pepper, coriander, warm complexity in the finish, clove, ginger, butterscotch; Features: The cognac penetrates slowly in the casks, it is imperative to respect this slow pace. After 25 years, the cask does not bring any more aromas to the cognac, but after more that 20 years, the cognac naturally reaches the best part of the wood; Distiller’s Note: “My favorite in the winter and to die for with chocolate.”

Special order only. Visual: rare Gold; The Nose: A surprising pall of flavors reminding of an old vintage Sauternes wine, mineral, aerial, fresh; The Taste: The harmony is impressionist with the marriage of the fruit, the flowers and the spices. Hints of red fruits, touch of chamomile and citrusella. Features: After 25 years and during the ten years that followed, the old cognac benefits from the exuberance of the 12 to 15 years casks revealing its origin. The minerality of the wines, the freshness of the Premiers Saveurs, the harmony of the three typical aromatic phases, endless finish; Distiller’s Note: “In a world of cognac where the taste has not changed since the 19th century, Quintessence is my vision of an exceptional cognac of our time, inspired by our admiration for the best old vintages of the 1st growth Bordeaux wines.”

1990 Bladnoch, 12-year-old, Signatory Single Malt ...............$55.99
This un-chilled filtered lowland malt blew our staff away! Being the southern-most distillery in Scotland, it is light straw in color, it is filled with layers of flavors that linger on your palate.Hints of toasty wheat, touches of caramel, just a bit of peat and a finish that just won’t quit! Would make a beautiful aperitif. Un-Chill filtered 46%ABV

1994 Benriach, 10 year, Un-Chillfiltered Signatory Malt ..............$63.99
This is a rare version of an unknown distillery that operates to contribute malt to several of the blends. This expression is unusual as it if very peaty. The normal malt form this distillery is very malty, almost cookie like. But this expression was peated to give it a smoky, spicy characteristic that lingers in the finish. For all you peat lovers out there is Speyside malt was made for you! 100% Bourbon casks and white wine in color, if you had it blind you would think Islay all the way! 46%ABV

Edradour 10-year-old Straight From The Cask .500ml ............$76.99
Edradour is produced in Scotland’s smallest distillery near the town of Pitlochry. It is hand made today as it was over 150 years ago by just three men who are devoted to the time-honored methods of whisky making. Indeed equipment used at the distillery has remained unchanged since the day the distillery opened and is only just capable of producing commercial quantities. Iain Henderson and crew of two are making some wonderful malts. The 500ml were not approved for the U.S. market so they are a collector’s item. Once it gone it will never be in the U.S. again!

Imperial, 14 year, Un-Chillfiltered Signatory Single Malt ......$89.99
Passing through the small village of Aberlour, home of Walkers Shortbread, a steep road leads up to Carron where, in a hollow on the banks of the River Spey and next to the former Carron station, Imperial Distillery lies. It was at Imperial that research was carried out into converting the waste material from distillation into nourishing cattle feed. The production is destined to the blending industry, especially for Teachers, Long John, Ballantine’s and Old Smuggler. The distillery has been closed since 1998. This 14 year old is lovely. The beauty, the elegance, the oiliness, the length! Wow! Stunning! Distilled: November 2, 1994. Bottled: September 14, 2004 Cask No.: 408. Only 289 bottles made

1984 Teaninich, 18 year, Signatory Cask Strength .................$119.99
Teaninich is famous because it was the first distillery that had electric light. It doubled its production capacity in 1962. In 1971 a new still house, called “a side” with 6 stills was created. The old one, called “bide” has been rebuilt in 1974 but mothballed in 1985. The first official versions of Teaninich single malt were marketed in 1992. Most of the production is used in the Diageo blends like Johnnie Walker. 57.6% ABV. Distilled May 17, 1984. Bottled February 3, 2003. Cask No.: 4097. Only 254 bottles made.

Comtesse in Review ’94, ’97, ’00, & ’01
The Reserve de Comtesse is a perennial favorite here at K&L, and it is not every day that you get to taste a vertical of it!

1994 Réserve de Comtesse, Pauillac ($39.99) The nose is elegant and restrained with red fruits and hints of earthen spice. The palate is balanced, medium-bodied with the same red fruits but accented with some darker tones. The wine finishes as elegantly as it starts with lingering earth and spice. Decant at least one hour.

1997 Réserve de Comtesse, Pauillac ($25.99) The nose is bright and lifted, more energetic and vibrant than the ’94 but with a similar theme to the fruit and with as much apparent spice and earth. Again medium bodied but brighter, balanced with good length, with the fruit, earth, spice and acidity playing wonderfully off each other. Wow, this wine sings right now!

2001 Réserve de Comtesse, Pauillac ($26.99) This wine has a deeper darker nose, with more density. The dark fruit is accented with a pleasant touch of oak. Shows its youth needs, time to evolve. It is very expressive on the palate, medium-bodied but with a rounder, richer texture than the two previous wines. The fruit is the opposite of the previous two wines, darker fruit accented by brighter red tones, with is framed with sweet oak and spice. Charming and balanced but young; it needs a few more years of cellaring.

I often hear from members of our Wine Clubs who are surprised that we offer certain wines at such low prices. Many of the wines we send out each month are well known and can be found in fine wine shops across the country. Sometimes the prices at your local wine shop can be three times or more what a Wine Club member pays. We are able to offer these gems for a number of reasons. It is ultimately the quality, however, that determines whether or not a wine becomes a monthly selection. We have many talented and specialized palates among our tremendous staff, and we use their abilities to help choose the winners. The employees at K&L can be quite vocal when a wine displeases them, and all comments are welcome. Those few wines chosen have certainly met the test.

We also often include some of our direct imports. With the Euro at an all-time high, import prices continue to rise. Each year, we send each of our buyers to the country and region of their specialty, and they come back with wonderful wines that we directly import, resulting in huge savings. We are able to offer these wines at tremendous savings. As with our domestic purchases, the quality of the wine is of paramount importance.

Wine Club members are now able to take advantage of numerous special offers and Wine Club re-orders directly through our website. The benefits of being a Club member have dramatically increased, and we invite you to join one (or more) of our Clubs and see why we have so many happy, and oftentimes surprised, members. Cheers!
