2004 Reserve de Comtesse Lalande, Paulliac ............................................$33.99

2004 Château Pontet-Canet, Paulliac .......................................................$52.99

93 pts and Highly Recommended, WS. See Ralph’s comments on page four—I completely agree with him. This wine is first growth quality for a very good price. Ten years from now you will not be able to tell the difference between this and their 2005.

2004 Château Lynch-Bages, Paulliac ......................................................$54.99

Trey’s Picks for October

2004 Robert Mondavi Reserve Napa Cabernet Sauvignon .................$99.00

92 pts RP: “A blend of 86% cabernet sauvignon, 12% cabernet franc and the rest petit verdot, the 2004 Cabernet Sauvignon Reserve, which mostly comes from To-Kalon, has a relatively small production in this vintage (7,500 cases). The wine has a dense purple color and a wonderful, sweet, almost St-Julien like nose of licorice, red and black currants, cedar and spice. Medium to full-bodied, elegant, but authoritatively flavored, this wine is still young, rich and very fine.”

2004 Quintessa Rutherford Red ..........................................................$109.00

2004 Opus One Napa Valley Proprietary Red Wine .........................$149.00

2004 Joseph Phelps Napa “Insignia” .................................................$159.00

94-96 pts RP: “The soft, opulent 2004 Insignia (a 10,000-case blend of 72% cabernet sauvignon, 14% merlot, 12% petit verdot and 2% malbec) is already seductive and lush. Offering abundant quantities of cassis, incense, graphite, plums, blackberries and black currants, it will be hard to resist young, but should age effortlessly for two decades or more.” Very limited quantities.

As we head into the holiday season, it seems our Bordeaux ships have come in, literally. No less than six containers have arrived over the last few months, stocking our shelves flush with Bordeaux wines from the 1970 to 2005 vintages. I recommend looking at some of the fine values represented from the vintages 1997, 1999, 2001, 2002 and 2004. Sure we have many wines from the great vintages of 1996, 2000, 2003 and 2005, but these wines are pricey, while the less "great" vintages are superb values in today's wine market. My personal favorites include the 1999 Bahans Haut-Brion ($69.00), 1999 Grauda-Larose ($49.99), 2001 Clarke ($27.99), 2001 Lascombes ($59.99), 2001 Léoville-Barton ($64.99), 2001 Maléscot ($47.99), 2002 Rocher Bellevue Figeac ($19.99) and all of the 2004s on page one!

Bearden’s Bordeaux Picks

Here are a few staff favorites from “older” Bordeaux in stock.

2000 Grangeneuve de Figeac, St-Emilion ($36.99) Ch. Figeac made a profound ’00 and their second wine shows the same superb quality at a fraction of the price. This is soft and elegant with beautiful aromas of stones, earth, cedar and mineral. Sumptuous, round and gentle.

1994 Pichon-Lalande, Paulliac (1.5L $259.00) One of our favorite properties and a standout for the vintage, there is plenty of stuffing in this rich, bold wine. Here the large percentage of merlot shines through and there is an almost exotic character to the smoke, currant and spice aromas and flavors. This is a fantastic wine to decant now or age further.

2001 Léoville-Barton, St-Julien ($64.99) We all love this concentrated, full-bodied and powerful wine for its freshness, purity and pedigree. This is big and dark with plenty of deep fruit, mineral and licorice notes and substantial tannin all in harmony and balance.

2003 Château Poujeaux, Moulis ($29.99) This soft, ripe and earthy bargain has been a customer favorite and it’s easy to see why. With aromas and flavors of tobacco, plums, pepper, raspberry, currant and toast, this is almost too easy drink.

1999 Léoville-Poyferré, St-Julien ($42.99) There is an amazing price/quality ratio here. This is graceful, elegant and aromatic with surprising sweet fruit and a long detailed finish.

2001 Filhot, Sauternes (375ml $16.99) 2001 was a great vintage for Sauternes and it is exciting to find bargains that show that greatness. Robert Parker praises its “freshness and elegance.”

—Steve Bearden

Chip’s Quips

Bordeaux is the most consistent wine region in the world, a true old friend. When they have a good vintage it’s almost impossible for a Bordelaise not to make a good wine. I’ve picked out a few old friends (and a couple new ones) and I hope you’ll enjoy them as well.

2003 Bourneuf Vayron, Pomerol ($29.99) Really nice plum fruit shows itself on the nose and the palate, accompanied by a bit of toasty oak in the aromas. The large scale of the fruit, as well as the silky palate impression left by its refined tannins, are indicative of the hot 2003 vintage. Let this breathe a bit and the softness of its fruit will just keep expanding.

2004 Bernadotte, Hau-Médoc ($16.99) This estate is owned by Pichon-Lalande and the wine is made by their winemaking team. It’s loaded with cherries and currants with a spicy, forest floor element to the finish. Elegant and refined, this shows the deft touch of Pichon-Lalande.

1999 Branaire-Ducru, St-Julien ($49.99) 1999 was a fool you vintage. In barrel the wines didn’t taste very concentrated—there was a lot of rain that year—but they’ve filled out beautifully, becoming elegant, soft and incredibly balanced. The ’99 has a classic graphite nose leading to complexly layered blackcurrant and blueberry fruit. Great right now, but certainly ageworthy.

2004 Branaire-Ducru, St-Julien ($41.99) Branaire’s been on a roll for the last 8-9 years! Patrick Maroteaux, the proprietor, has harnessed the sophistication and elegance of this wonderful estate. The ’04 exhibits laser-sharp complexity. Graphite, anise, black currant, blueberries and lavender combine to produce one of the most intricate wines this third growth estate has produced. Drink now or let it sit and continue to develop.

A Toast to the Rising Stars of Bordeaux!

When you have two estates that date from the 16th and 18th centuries, respectively, and that were classified in 1855 as third and fifth growths, it’s hard to think of them as rising stars. But in today’s ever-changing Bordeaux landscape I can tell you, unequivocally, that the meteoric rise in popularity of Ch. Maléscot-St-Exupéry (Margaux) and Ch. Pontet-Canet (Pauillac) is richly deserved and absolutely no fluke.

Jean-Luc Zuger is the man in charge at Ch. Maléscot-St-Exupéry today and he is fully aware of the historically great terrior of his vineyard and its royal beginnings. The motto “Blue blood will always tell” was instituted in the 16th century by the Esouss royal family and carried on by Simon Maléscot in 1697, who lent the vineyard his name until Count Jean-Baptiste de Saint-Exupéry bought it in 1827. When Jean-Luc’s father Roger bought the estate in 1955 he added “Simper Ad Altum” meaning “even higher,” to the label. Jean-Luc was more than ready when he took over, immediately becoming very selective with his fruit and investing in 80% new oak. Maléscot’s style features old vine fruit, is always masculine and well-defined when evaluated young; rounding out just beautifully and gaining richness in the mid palate over time. A classic Margaux wine with fantastic aromas of ripe grapes, leather, minerals and earth.

1997 ($39.99) Drinking well right now with an hour of decanting, showing elegant crisp, firm fruit. It went superbly with Tri-Tip!

2002 ($47.99) A big, dark wine with some serious tannins that needs seven to ten more years in the cellar; the breed and class of the vineyard really comes through in this difficult vintage.

2003 ($49.99) Even a classic styled wine like Maléscot can’t escape the heat of 2003! This wine has had layers of rich, soft, opulent fruit from day one and everyone loves it. This wine will not close down.

Alfred Tesseron always pours his beloved Ch. Pontet-Canet from a decanter these days. He wants his wine to show its best and it does. In my opinion Pontet-Canet is by far the brightest rising star in Bordeaux today. Alfred has improved everything at the estate and his new cone-shaped, cement fermentation tanks are the final touch. A masculine, very deep, dark purple wine with great purity and power, the quality today blows away dozens of more famous names like the TGV streaking through the countryside. The wines made recently are awesome and the 2004 ($52.99) is fantastic, and quite frankly the only example you need to try to understand just how great a wine is being made here. In my opinion it is the best overall Bordeaux in our inventory for the money. Decant and try one, even though it is brutally young, if you love Bordeaux you need to experience this quality while the price remains reasonable. The 1996 ($79.99) is a wine I bought a case of on futures and it is progressing nicely, still vibrant and young but not perfectly ready yet so get out your decanter and air it out for two hours.

We just purchased two other 1996s from St-Éstephe. Phélan-Ségur ($49.99) is just about ready now and features bright, zesty, spicy, very attractive cherry fruit. The 1996 Ch. Potensac ($34.99), from the stable of Léoville-Las Cases, is always classic, stern and firm with dark fruit and grip. Like all the 1996s it needs to visit our friend the decanter for a couple hours.

In our K&L universe we sadly lost a few stars recently. Coach Bill Walsh brought more happiness to the San Francisco Bay Area than anyone could ever have dreamed of. Homer Jugzeldur, the father of our own Joe Jugzeldur, just exuded class and was a coach and mentor to hundreds of people that were lucky to have known him. And my old golf and wine buddy Don Kunesh; the undisputed King of the napkin trick! So I raise my glass and toast all these fine men and know that they would want me to say...

GO NINERS!

This is New World Bordeaux with enough forward fruit and body to please a California-cab palate.

White/Red Burgundy

2005 Mâcon-Villages, V.V., Domaine Rhodon-Marin ...............$11.99

Focused and bright, with a nice spicy nose and pretty acidity, as well as some pretty pear notes. Honest, focused Mâcon.

2005 St-Veran, Domaine des Nembrets .................................$13.99

This comes from estate vineyards on the slopes of the Roche de Vergisson, a giant basalt monolith, surrounded by complex and folded rocky, well-drained soils with limestone outcroppings. It is rich, and focused, with good length.

2005 St-Veran de la Croix Sensaillet .................................$14.99

Bright and citrusy with floral and yellow fruit tones. The palate has rise almost tropical fruit tones with just a hint of nuttiness and a kiss of vanilla spice.

2005 Chablis, Domaine St. Claire, J-M Brocard .......................$17.99

Allen Meadows picks this as a Key Buy, calls it Outstanding! and writes: “pain grillé and vanilla hints frame more complex and more deeply pitched green fruit and iodine aromas that can also be found on the big, rich and impressively intense flavors that coat the palate on the nicely long finish.”

2001 Biurko Rioja Reserva Old Vines Garnacha ............................................$12.99
88 pts RP: “Better than the 2002 tempranillo is the kirsch liqueur/candied cherry-filled 2001 grenache. Aged 12 months in American and French oak, and bottled unfiltered, it reveals medium body, a fine texture, and a hedonistic personality.”

2004 Chryseia (Portugal) ....................................................................................$44.99
93 pts RP! They say $66 retail price. Full-bodied and rich.

2005 Chryseia (Portugal) Just released ..............................................................$44.99

New Zealand/Australia/South Africa
2006 Kirkham Peak Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc ........................................$11.99
Fabulous Kiwi SB. Plenty of acid and clean gooseberry aromas—touch of lime. Not like so many grapefruit juice SBs.

2003 Kirkham Peak Cabernet-Shiraz, Clare Valley .......................................$12.99
60% shiraz and 40% cab. This is a full-bodied wine that is loaded with spice and fruit. The nose has notes of eucalyptus, clove and blueberry. The wine is nicely balanced on the palate with notes of cocoa powder and fresh, cooling menthol playing off of the sweet fruit.

2004 Kirkham Peak McLaren Vale Shiraz .........................................................$12.99
Made by Phil Christianson of Longwood. Rich, round, fruit driven.

d’Arenberg “Peppermint Paddock” Sparkling Chambourcin .........................$21.99
Only available at K&L in the USA! Aromas of violets and blueberries still on the bush and a fruit-forward taste that is balanced by some pretty serious tannins and acidity. Not really a quaffer, this deserves some big, lusty food.

2004 Hewitson Private Cellar Mourvèdre/Shiraz .............................................$26.99
97 pts Halliday. A special reserve blend made for us by Dean Hewitson.

2005 Anwilka Constantia Stellenbosch (South Africa) ..................................$32.99

2005 Ferrero Rosso di Montalcino ....................................................................$17.99
This gorgeous sangiovese is full-bodied and ripe with layers of lush black cherry fruit. On the palate it is lively, balanced and fresh and has a long finish. The perfect match for grilled meats drizzled with extra virgin olive oil.

2005 Baricci Rosso di Montalcino .......................................................................$18.99
Baricci’s wonderful southern exposure on Montalcino’s famous Montosoli hill furnishes them with a spicy black cherry and gravelly tobacco mix that is just unmatched. Long and elegant the wine finishes with a supple richness.

2003 Ruggeri Corsini Barolo “San Pietro” ..........................................................$29.99
Barolo that’s drinkable now! The 2003 vintage produced lush, ripe and powerful wines and Ruggeri Corsini’s San Pietro Barolo (younger vines) is really delicious! Full bodied and classic nebbiolo character with a riper twist, enjoy with your favorite risotto or Osso Buco.

2002 Sesta di Sopra Brunello di Montalcino ....................................................$42.99
Tiny Sesta di Sopra produces about 345 cases of Brunello and for my money they produced the best one in 2002! The wine is full bodied and shows layers of complex, wild fruit, with hints of rosemary and leather; intriguing, provoca- tive and tempting. Decant an hour before drinking.

We’ve been fortunate to receive a second allocation of the lovely ’04 Châteauneuf-du-Pape, Chante Cigale ($29.99), which tastes better than ever.

Domaine Chante Cigale’s 102 acres of land, located between Orange and Avignon within the village of Châteauneuf-du-Pape, has been owned and operated by the Sabon Favier family for several generations. The wines produced by this Domaine are classic, well made, and reasonably priced. Recently, Christian Favier passed the reins to his son Alexandre, who is fast becoming a rising star in the region.

The wines produced by this Domaine are classic, well made, and reasonably priced. Recently, Christian Favier passed the reins to his son Alexandre, who is fast becoming a rising star in the region.

The soils of the vineyard are made up of clay and chalk covered with a layer of this area’s classic large galets (pebbles), which keep yields naturally low. The vines are more than 45 years old and situated near the Plateau de Carbières, close to Château Mont Redon. Harvesting is done by hand, accompanied by a selective sorting. The grapes undergo a traditional long cuvaison (the maceration of the grape skins during red wine fermentation that transfers aroma, color and tannin to the wine) at a high temperature and with extended maceration on the skins. This is followed by aging for 14 to 18 months in foudre (large oak barrels), 10% in new barrels and 30% in concrete vats. This Châteauneuf-du-Pape offers dusty red fruits, earth and meaty notes. Clove and allspice take center stage on the palate, leading into a finely textured, medium-bodied wine. This will reward the patient and will take on weight and depth with a bit of aging.

Jim C’s View Down Under

2004 Vilafonte Series “C” Red Bordeaux Blend, Paarl, South Africa ($59.99) Americans Zelma Long and Phil Freese have joined South African Mike Ratcliffe in the first joint American/ South African winemaking project. Zelma was one of the first women to study enology at U.C. Davis, starting her career at Mondavi, then moving on to Simi as winemaker and CEO for 18 years. At Mondavi Phil designed the first Opus One vineyard. In South Africa, he has been a consultant at Warwick among others. Mike is the Managing Director at Warwick, which his folks purchased in 1964 with not a vine in site. The Vilafonte is a blend of 52% cabernet sauvignon, 35% merlot, 9% cabernet franc and 4% Malbec. Its bouquet offers notes of dusty black cherry, currant, chocolate, cedar and a hint of tobacco. All these components are judiciously framed by a toasty oak nuance. On the palate, the wine has silky, refined tannins and impeccable balance.

2006 Warwick “Professor Black” Sauvignon Blanc Stellenbosch South Africa ($16.99) The grapes for this wine are harvested at different levels of ripeness to express fruitiness and complexity. The wine is fermented very cold in specially-designed stainless steel tanks and left on the lees for three months. The nose is full of tropical fruit, gooseberry, fig and lime blossom. On the palate the wine is rich with good balancing acidity, a creamy texture and a hint of minerals. The refreshing finish is long and persistent. Stay after school and have a glass with the “Professor”.

Join Zelma and Mike at K&L Redwood City on Thursday, Oct 18 from 5 to 6:30 p.m.

Trey’s October Picks!

2005 Kunde Estate Sonoma Chardonnay ($11.99) A long time favorite chardonnay for K&L, Kunde is a medium-bodied wine that shows a complex mix of apricot, pineapple and mango flavors that linger on the finish. An excellent choice for many of your favorite Fall dishes.

2004 Kunde Estate Sonoma Cabernet Sauvignon ($15.99) Made from a blend of 87% cabernet sauvignon, 1% Malbec and 12% syrah, this bold, yet fresh cab has rich, deep color and full body. Aromas of black cherries whet your palate, while the mouth-filling blackberry and dark, Mexican chocolate flavors are followed by youthful chalky tannins. Don’t wait for a steak; this wine is great with burgers, short ribs and pasta with tomato-based sauce.

2003 Napanook Napa Red ($38.99) 2004 Dominus Napa Valley Proprietary Red ($99.00) The second wine from Dominus Estate (3,100 cases), the 2003 Napanook, is a blend of 91% cabernet sauvignon, 4% cabernet franc, and 5% petit verdot and malbec. In 1836 George Yount, for whom the Napa Valley town of Yountville was named, planted the valley’s first vines where Napanook vineyard now stands, selling the land to Charles Hopper in 1850. The vineyard has changed hands many times since then. Having fallen in love with the Napa Valley and its wines while studying at U.C. Davis, Christian Moueix entered into a joint venture with Robin Lail and Marcia Smith called Dominus in 1982. Over the years Moueix has worked to restore the unique character of the original vineyard, becoming full owner in 1995. The 2003 Napanook is a wonderfully balanced, fresh Bordeaux-style wine that should be enjoyed over the next five years. The 2004 Dominus is a blend of 85% cabernet sauvignon, 8% cabernet franc and 7% petit verdot. The 2004 shows more of a fleshy, creamy texture than the ’03 and actually shows well now with decanting. Great pick for a mid-term cellaring wine.

currants and a touch of cranberry. End of October. Despite the extra hangtime, grape sugars were low, making this a lower alcohol/Santa Clara Valley/Hecker Pass). A late year for the area, harvest didn’t start until the

Boutique Corner

Sometimes the wines in the Boutique Corner can be very expensive. This month I want to focus on small production wines that are very reasonable in price. That’s the great thing about California wines—you can find great wines at any price point!

2001 River Run Santa Cruz Mountain Cabernet Sauvignon ($17.99) The 2001 River Run Cabernet Sauvignon, Santa Cruz Mountains is a blend of fruit from Bates Ranch (northwest Santa Cruz Mountains/Boulder Creek) and Besson Vineyards (southeast Santa Cruz Mountains/Santa Clara Valley/Hecker Pass). A late year for the area, harvest didn’t start until the end of October. Despite the extra hangtime, grape sugars were low, making this a lower alcohol, Bordeaux-style cabernet with clean flavors reminiscent of blueberries, dark ripe plums, currants and a touch of cranberry.

2005 Until Dry Creek Zinfandel ($23.99) “Big, dark, juicy, fruity and spicy,” says Mick Unti of the 2005 Unti Dry Creek Zinfandel. Can such a complex wine be summed up so simply? Perhaps, but Wine Spectator adds: “Ripe plum, licorice and cracked pepper aromas lead to stewed raspberry and roasted anise flavors and minerally tannins. Zinfandel and petite sirah. Drink now.” Only 1,345 cases made and we agree, drink this one with everything from barbecue to winter stews. This is what Dry Creek Zinfandel is all about.

2006 Praxis Monterey County Pinot Noir ($15.99) Garnet-hued, this vibrant pinot noir smells like Bing cherries, ripe plums, blackcurrant and cola, but tastes like fresh-picked strawberries and cassis. Richly textured, well-integrated tannins and lively acidity make this a balanced, fruit-forward pinot noir.

CHARDONNAY PICK OF THE MONTH!

| 2004 Iron Horse Sonoma Estate | $19.99 |

A beautiful and complex chardonnay with a nose of clove, vanilla and apples; so crisp and fresh, that it comes as no surprise that there are Gravenstein groves nearby. The palate is full and round with nice acidity and a little hint of minerality on the finish.
Brick's Backyard Picks: Joseph Swan Vineyards

No, not the knighted British gentleman that invented the light bulb and the dry photographic plate, these are the wines from the other Joseph Swan: a pioneer of the Russian River Valley who founded his winery in 1968 and made some of the most interesting wines from the area in the 1970s and ’80s. Mr. Swan not only made wine but also shared his knowledge and passion with many up-and-coming winemakers before he left us in 1989. One of these winemakers, Rod Berglund, just so happened to be Joe’s assistant winemaker and son-in-law. He took over the estate after Joe’s passing.

Rod put together the 2002 Joseph Swan Sonoma County Zinfandel ($19.99) from lots of all of his single vineyard zins. A simple classification of these single vineyard lots has led to a wine that is more than the sum of its parts. With notes of baker's chocolate and tamarisku on the nose, this wine seems heavy and rich at first, but that notion is squelched quickly by its unmistakable acidity. A tang of cranberry, red currant and Rainer cherry fruit gives this zin huge lift and brightness. Finishing with orange peel, black tea and pithy raspberry fruit, this zin is miles away from most produced these days.

The 2001 Joseph Swan “Mancini Ranch” Russian River Valley Zinfandel ($19.99) is another knockout. This wine not with its alcohol, extraction or residual sugar, but with its sheer balance. With persistent earthiness this wine’s nose is cemented with red plum, pomegranate and charred pork ribs. If that isn’t enough, the fleshy, plump mouthfeel, cracked black pepper and tobacco spice and layered blueberry fruit should do the trick. Both these tremendous values will be perfect as the weather turns and the colors start to change. Cheers Joe, Rod and everyone else that has ever had a hand in making this winery such a success.

Hollywood’s Hot Pix: Sake

With heated debates raging on Hollywood’s best sushi bars comes a growing interest in sake. One of our favorite importers, Vine Connections, has one of the best sake portfolios, complete with clever proprietary English names, making labels easier to read and understand and shopping for sake a lot more fun.

Tozai “Living Jewel” Junmai Sake (300ml $8.99; 720ml $15.99) Junmai refers to the polished level of the rice and accounts for less than 10% of top-end of sake production. This is easy to drink with medium-bodied weight and nice clean flavors of banana, herbs and steamed rice.

Rihaku “Dreamy Clouds” Tokubetsu Junmai Nikori Sake (Unfiltered) (300ml $13.99; 720ml $29.99) This sake is made by leaving some of the rice lees after pressing, resulting in a cloudy, milky-like character. The Rihaku is a less chunky style with porridge-like aromas and just a hint of sweet rice. Not too heavy, this is one of the best balanced sakes of its kind.

Ginga Shuzoku “Divine Droplets” Junmai Daiginjo Sake (300ml $31.99; 720ml $64.99) A Daiginjo Sake is the finest of all Junmai Sake. This brewer does not believe in pressing the sake off the lees, instead he separates it by hanging it in canvas bags. These free-run “Divine Droplets” create one of the purest, most fragrant sakes. Very subtle hints of jasmine, anise and citrus are just a few of the complex aromas coming from this gorgeous product.

Remembering a Great Trip

Here are recent reviews of just a few of the many fantastic wines I tried on my trip to Spain last May.

2004 Zara Barrica, Ribera del Duero ($14.99) 89 pts RP: “…Dark ruby-colored, it exhibits a touch of smoke and vanilla from the oak treatment as well as blueberry and blackberry. This is followed by a ripe, fruity wine with fine depth and balance and a pure finish. It is an excellent value.”

2003 Marques de Vargas Reserva Rioja ($19.99) 90 pts RP: “…Dark ruby-purple-colored, it has a fine nose of earth, vanilla bean, tobacco, black currant, and blueberry. Medium to full-bodied with excellent focus for this vintage, the wine has ample fruit, complex flavors, and excellent balance.”

Can Rafola Dels Caus El Rocallis ($34.99) 93 pts RP: “…The 2001 El Rocallis is a candidate for best white wine of my Spanish tastings. Made from 100% incrocio manzoni, a hybrid created by Professor Luigi Manzoni, from riesling and pinot gris. It bears a striking resemblance to the Grand Cru Chablis ‘Les Clos’ from a top producer. The wine was aged 4 months in French oak and then spent 42 months in bottle prior to release. It is medium gold-colored with an outstanding nose of slate, apple, pear, and peach. This is followed by a full-bodied, mouth-filling wine with layers of rich flavors, excellent balancing acidity, and great length…”

Marques de Vargas Rioja Reserva Privada ($41.99) 93 pts RP: “…The wine was aged for 23 months in new Russian oak. Purple-colored, it offers a full-throttle nose of scorching earth, espresso, blueberry, and blackberry jam. Mouth-filling, with great concentration and depth of flavor, this full-bodied wine is beautifully balanced and just beginning to strut its stuff. Give it another 4-6 years in bottle and drink it over the following decade.”

Buen Cata!

From Bordeaux to Mendoza

Helene Garcin-Leveque, who owns Clos L’Eglise, Barde-Haut, Haut-Bergey and Branon in Bordeaux, recently ventured out on her own to fashion eminently drinkable wines in the high plateaus of Mendoza, Argentina. These two wines are practically tailor-made for grilled foods, so whether you’re on the Peninsula or in San Francisco, West Hollywood or Santa Monica, enjoy the last days of the outdoor grilling season with these tasty wines.

Poesia Paso Doble 2005 ($11.99) Produced from equal parts cabernet, malbec and syrah, Paso Doble’s raspberry aromas leap out of the glass. I pick up some roast coffee notes as well. On the palate the wine is all red fruits with an almost candied quality. The mouthfeel, though, is quite lively, making this a perfect match with dry rubbed ribs.

Clos des Andes 2004 ($18.99) (ORGANIC) This is my new favorite malbec. Produced from hand-picked grapes grown at a vineyard planted in 1935, Clos des Andes really shows the complexity, minerality and depth of flavor that old vines produce. The nose brings to mind a freshly baked blackberry and nectarine cobbler. Aged for 10 months in French oak barrels and with some time in the bottle as well, Clos des Andes has a soft and dense texture, with dark fruit flavors, a nice core of minerality and elegant, slowly building floral notes. It’s drinking really well right now, but should continue to improve for at least another three years.

The Village of Brotherly Love

I have been fortunate enough to have known the Brothers Spreitzer for quite a number of years now. Ever since I first sipped their wines I knew they lived, breathed and proudly represented the famed Rheingau. The magic happens in the small village of Oestrich, almost smack dab in the middle of the region, where the fruits of their labor, literally, becomes the best representation of what Rheingau wine should be: deep, juicy, fleshy stone fruit with a sandy rich minerality and just enough acidity to balance everything out and keep you wanting more. I hate to say it but I am no longer surprised at what they can do, I pretty much just expect it these days. One of the best bottlings I have ever had the pleasure of sipping (sometimes gulping) down is their 2005 Spreitzer Oestricher Lachen Kabinett ($19.99). This smells of a perfectly ripened yellow peach with just a touch of tart apple and deep sandy loam minerals trapped in the bottle for your drinking pleasure. It’s a sexy beast, this one, and you will be left wanting more! Back in 1920, their great-grandfather picked some of his riesling at an astounding 303 oechsle, the ripest ever on record until 2003. Now, when the vintage allows, the Brothers Spreitzer make a wine in ode to this accomplishment. It comes from a tiny little section of the Lochen vineyard called the Eisberge. The 2005 Spreitzer Oestricher Lochen Spätlese “303” ($41.99) is something to be cherished. This is no wimpy wine! For a “spätlese” it has massive weight and structure but leaves you with a nervy finesse of flowers and herbs. Imagine the kabinett on steroids if you will. All of that extra sexy goodness is going to take some time, seven to ten years or so, to really step out into the light and begin to do its thing. Be patient, and you will be rewarded, trust me.

Loire Valley: La Grange Tiphaine

Damien Delacheneau’s future is bright. He is respected widely and thought of as one of the most promising young vignerons in the Loire Valley. He works his family’s 11 hectare domaine in Touraine-Amboise with vigor and respect for the vines. He farms the vineyards without the use of chemicals, harvests by hand, ferments with native yeasts and doesn’t pump after the initial pressing. Both he and his wife studied and worked in California; he also plays the clarinet quite well. Try a selection of the following new arrivals: 2006 Grange Tiphaine Touraine-Amboise Bel Air Sec ($12.99) is 100% chenin blanc from 60-70 year old vines on an east facing hillside; it does not go through malo and is bottled with a minimum of SO2. 2006 saw yields down to about 22 hl/ha (very low) for the white wines and acid levels just a bit higher than 2005. You will notice the concentration these low yields imparted to this normally fun and easy wine, adding weight, gravitas and really showcasing the sparkling minerality. This could be the most astonishing white in the store under $20! 2006 Grange Tiphaine Touraine Rosé Riaude Tournant ($9.99) is from an old vineyard block containing mostly grolleau, with gamay, cabernet franc and côt rounding it out, all picked at the same time, like they would do generations ago. This mélange creates a wonderfully rich palate of flavors, from wild strawberry to rhubarb to fragrant herbs, equally at home on the table or the patio. 2006 Grange Tiphaine Touraine-Amboise Les Cassiers ($12.99) 100% gamay from flint soils with clay that Damien ferments using carbonic maceration. It is fresh and juicy with aromas of wild cherries, blackberries and spice, no tooie-fruity gamay here, this is the real quaffable deliciousness you’re looking for. 2006 Grange Tiphaine Touraine Côt Vieilles Vignes ($15.99) The Côt Vieilles Vignes is from a plot of 127 year old vines and could be my favorite among this very strong lineup.

Dear Jen

I was driving through the hilly flatlands of Sciatica (in upstate New York) on a combination wine and acid trip recently and my mind was wandering (not surprising) through the months of the year. Each month is marked by holidays—New Year’s, Valentine’s, St. Patty’s, my birthday, Cinco de Mayo, Solstice, Independence, VJ, Labor—then what’s left of my brain hits October with an audible splat. United Nations? Halloween? Columbus? Maybe we can dress as sailors and trick or treat on FDR Drive?

October is an odd duck of a month, quacking along on the doorstep of Thanksgiving with the scent of December holidays already in the air. October is The Month Before, just as January is The Month After.

I worry about Jennifer Aniston. A lot. Which has nothing to do with October. We started getting these magazines at work—you know, the celebrity crap: who’s in (rehab, jail, denial), who’s out (of money, fashion, the closet). Who’s wearing Armani and what’s up with Yanni and J Lo’s fanny. Cruise and booze, Spears and beers. Bogart was right—we’ll ALWAYS have Paris.

Anyway—back to Jennifer. Jen. My nights are increasingly sleepless, worrying about her being able to cope with her recent split from (enter current name here). Is she happy? Sad? Does she have a support system other than that Wonderbra? Can she remain tanned and fit? Will her teeth still glisten in a photo shoot? This is serious stuff.

I’d offer to be a big brother to her, but big brothers that peek through keyholes are creepy so forget it.

I need wine:

Château Figeac arguably shares the honor of “St-Emilion’s best” with Châteaux Ausone and Cheval Blanc. Despite a higher than average percentage of cabernet sauvignon (merlot and cabernet franc dominate the commune), Figeac is supple, warm and quite generous. In fact, I’d go one better for the 1990 ($279.00): it is stunning. To find a better Figeac one would have to rewind four presidents at the very least. Need your daily helping of Robert Parker? “It is a terrific wine!” Jen, this one will make you forget all about (enter name).

1994 Soutard. A Legendary Château. I’m kidding—Soutard is far from legendary, at least here in the States—unless you define a legend as “historical although not verifiable.” And we see so little Soutard here that the definition may in fact be on point. Too bad for us, as Soutard is a stout, chewy, but richly fruited wine and the ’94 ($29.95) is the stylistic template. If you love mature Bordeaux, hate high prices and wish to sample something “legendary,” Soutard is a must try.

Raise a glass to October.

Jim’s October Gems

Two evenings ago (September 1), I received a call from the winemaker in Dry Creek Valley that I buy zinfandel grapes from each year, telling me his vineyard was ripe and ready for harvesting. And, yes, tomorrow morning, we will be trekking northward to get our zin, six weeks earlier than last year. The harvest has begun and actually was well underway just two weeks ago. This may be one of the earliest vintages that I have experienced since 1977 (the last year of a severe two year drought), when we picked chardonnay in the middle of August in southern Napa Valley. It is not as if we have had a hideously hot summer (it has been cooler than normal) to cause this, but everything (bud break, flowering, and veraison) has been four to six weeks early. The little devils have had their “hangtime” and they are ready.

I have one last serious rosé recommendation to make while it is still warm and before the autumn/winter storms descend upon us. The Le Rosé de Clarke 2006 ($11.99) recently arrived and this Baron Edmond de Rothschild project is a serious gem. Completely produced from special plots of merlot and cabernet franc, this lovely wine has a deep pink color, fragrant aromatics of strawberries and ripe plums and is dry, clean, crisp and mouthwatering on the palate. Try this with grilled salmon or halibut. According to both the Eb and the Beaner, this will be our house rosé for the month. (★★★★★★★★★★★★★★)

Produced from merlot (75%) and cabernet, the Château Beychevelle project of Grand Bateau 2005 Bordeaux Rouge ($9.99) is a superb Gem from a great vintage. Deeply colored, the nose offers nuances of truffles, currants and red fruits while in the mouth it is rich, viscous, nicely extracted, round and well-structured. This wine is meant to drink now; don’t go hiding it somewhere in your collection of wines and forgetting about it. Anderson has informed me that this will be one of our house reds for the month. (★★★★★★★★★★★★★★)

Many of the 2004 Bordeaux continue to impress me with their stylishness, elegance and value. The Seigneurs d’Aiguilhe 2004 Côtes de Castillon ($13.99), a second label to Château d’Aiguilhe, is a perfect example of this. Produced primarily from merlot, with just a touch of cabernet franc, this medium deep ruby red, provides opulent and bright, red-fruit aromas with just a hint of cedar oak that carries over to a lush, full, broad set of flavors. Soft, silky tannins and a long warm, flashy finish complete the uniqueness of this Gem and make this another house red of the month for us, according to Anderson. (★★★★★★★★★★★★★★)

We have not had a Reserve Kalinda Cabernet in so long, I was beginning to believe we would never again find the fruit that we would believe to be of “reserve” quality. But when a famous cabernet-only producer recently made 100 cases available to us for a reserve bottling, we did not hesitate in sounding like a cooing pigeon to go with it. Our Kalinda 2003 Napa Valley “Reserve” Cabernet Sauvignon ($24.99) is a stunning Gem that will be earmarked for the Gem Hall Of Fame. Deep ruby in color, the nose explodes with blackberry to curranty fruit with undertones of white pepper spiciness and soft toasty oak. Full, concentrated, complex flavors are focused and well-defined in this highly profiled, well-structured wine that drinks well now but will easily age another seven to ten years. Anderson wants this in our cellar in case loads. (★★★★★★★★★★★★★★)

Enjoy this month’s selection,

Champagne Bruno Michel

We at K&L were recently honored with a visit from Pauline Michel, from Champagne Bruno Michel. She was in the Bay Area on holiday, but took some time out to meet the K&L team. Her father, the Bruno whose name is on the bottle, is the mayor of the village of Moussy as well as an estate bottler of Champagne. His Champagnes are among the most elegant that we carry and he is the only producer that we have that I’ve ever written an order with, on the spot in Champagne. I just couldn’t risk someone else becoming his importer! He farms 37 and one half acres in Pierry, Moussy and St. Agnen and has been organic since 1999, with five acres converted to biodynamics. He started producing his own Champagne in 1980, but before that he was a grapevine nurseryman. He is the only producer that I know of in Champagne that uses only his own massal selections (not cloned grape material) in his vineyards. The Launois and others are working on going this direction, but he has been doing it since the beginning.

He is also a proponent of barrel fermentation and a naturalist when it comes to the malolactic fermentation, so the wines end up being about half malo. His Bruno Michel Champagne Brut ($29.99) is composed of 53% meunier and 47% chardonnay, 70% from the 2004 harvest, 14% from the 2003 harvest and 16% from 2002. It has great toast and spiced apple aromas and flavors and a crisp dry finish. It is dosed at a very light nine grams per liter. It is a must try for any fan of Champagne and can easily be compared with much more expensive bottles.

Ariston Has Something for Everyone!

Wow. The holidays seem to be approaching at the speed of light. As much as I am loathe to think of Champagne as being a seasonal product, our largest sales do occur during this time of the year. In any case, this gives me the opportunity to promote one of my favorite producers, Ariston. Located on the steep slopes of Brouillet, Ariston champagne has a distinct fossily terroir. The NV Carte Blanche ($39.99) is one of our most popular champagnes and a bargain at the price. A blend of 40% chardonnay, 30% pinot noir and 30% pinot meunier, it is a powerful yet clean style of wine with bread dough and caramel aspects. The long, clean, slightly mineral driven finish comes as quite a surprise. Wine deux is the Aspásie Blan de Blan ($29.99), a rather rich and creamy style wine unlike “classic” blanc de blanc, which is generally higher in acid. The Aspásie comes off in a more genteel fashion with crème fraiche, a hint of butterscotch and a bit of toast. Wine trois is the Aspásie Brut Prestige ($34.99), which is composed entirely of 1998 vintage grapes. It is a blend of 50% chardonnay, 25% pinot noir and 25% pinot meunier. The meunier is evident in the black cherry aspect of this wine with a dry, almost tart character on the back of the tongue. There’s also a delightful light spice on the finish. Next, we have the 2000 vintage Brut ($32.99), a blend of 1/3 each chardonnay, pinot noir and pinot meunier. Like the Brut Prestige, there is an amazing black cherry character, but the vintage Brut is more doughy and toasty. An elegant style wine, this will age extremely well for the next five years or longer. Sigh. My last wine is the truly spectacular NV Brut Rosé ($29.99). I sigh because this is one of my very favorite rosé champagnes and it flies out of here at what seems like a bottle per minute. A hefty dose of pinot meunier (12%) gives it a beautiful, dark salmon color. Red cherry fruit and fresh strawberries make it come off both as rich and tart at the same time. Marzipan on the palate adds even more to the complexity, finishing dry and lingering with a lovely hint of minerality. DO NOT WAIT to buy this one. It doesn’t last very long in ANY of the stores!

Pour Votre Plaisir

Delightful Whites

One of our favorite producers is Denis Barraud, who runs the Domaine des Nembrets. He lives in the village of Vergisson, on the slopes of the Roche de Vergisson, a towering monolith in the hills of the Mâcon. It is one of the more complex areas in France geologically, the land has been so folded that adjacent vineyards may have completely different geology, and thus may be classified as St-Veran, Mâcon-Vergisson, or Pouilly-Fuisse. It gets a bit complicated, but the simple thing is that all of these wines are hand harvested, artisanal wines from a talented young vigneron. Denis is a dedicated young grower, who has gotten a very good write-up in the Revue des Vins de France. This is the fifth vintage we have worked with Denis and he has a string of successes that continue with his 2006s. We also have one new wine from Denis this year.

The 2006 Mâcon ($12.99) is crisp, with lots of ripe fruit in the middle and a lovely thread of minerality at the finish. No oak, just classic, clean, focused Mâcon. The 2006 St-Veran ($13.99) offers a richer character and a lovely, round mouthfeel. But Denis’s real pride and joy are his Pouilly-Fuissés. The 2006 Pouilly-Fuisse Chataignieres ($19.99) has lovely minerality and a fine, elegant style, combined with a rich middle. The 2006 Pouilly-Fuisse “Les Folles” ($23.99) comes from a vineyard adjacent to his winery, from some very old vines. It is ripe, floral and lovely, with very pretty character and a lingering finish. I was most impressed. Finally, we have the 2006 Pouilly-Fuisse “La Roche” ($25.99) from the most mineral, rocky slopes of the Roche (thus the name). The high limestone content gives this a racy quality. This sees a bit more new oak and some lees stirring. The result is a wine that can hold its head high in any company, including the famous wines from Puligny or Meursault! Á Sante!

—Keith Wollenberg

This wine is explosively aromatic with a core of sweet cassis, a sappy ‘old vine’ intensity and chewy rich texture. It is dense and packed with flavor, a wine to drink now or over the next 10 years. 2005 Grange Tiphaine Touraine Becarre ($17.99) is 100% cabernet franc from a western facing vineyard of red clay and silex that his father planted using massal selection. The vines are on the younger side, 17-20 years old, and present a pleasing gentle style of cabernet franc, planted using massal selection. The vines are on the younger side, 17-20 years old, and present a pleasing gentle style of cabernet franc, emphasizing cool black fruit and luscious texture, all supported by just enough tannin to finish properly dry. 2005 Grange Tiphaine Touraine L’equilibriste (500ml $27.99) The “Tight Rope Walker” is 100% Chenin Blanc Botrytis selection containing 110 grams of residual sugar, though as the name suggests this walks the line between sweet and racy with its brilliant acid structure and soil character. This is truly a great bottle we could not resist bringing in. Go Damien…

In my opinion, one of the most overlooked pleasures in wine is Chianti Classico. A recent tasting of the 2001 Carobbio Chianti Classico Riserva ($34.99) got me thinking—sure there have been some really bad wines made in Chianti Classico, but the same can be said of other great red wine regions—Bordeaux, Burgundy, even Napa! This is Carobbio’s current release, from a great vintage and from vineyards in Panzano, one of the premier sites within the DOCG and they held onto it so you wouldn’t need to. This wine has everything: power, depth, complexity and length. It has a mixture of red and dark fruits, gravelly, earthy minerality, savory spiciness and floral touch on the nose. This is definitely not a cocktail wine, it deserves (if not requires) a great meal! For my money you’ll be hard pressed to find Bordeaux or a Napa Cab as good as this!

Okay, I’m off my soapbox but equally excited to tell you about a wine, it deserves (if not requires) a great meal! For my money you’ll be hard pressed to find Bordeaux or a Napa Cab as good as this!

Sul Tappeto Rosso

I visited Sicily for three days at the end of April and beginning of May this year and in this miniscule amount of time the essence of Mt. Etna was permanently etched into my soul. Greg’s Conversion on the road to Catania, as I refer to it now, was not unlike stepping out of the desert after 40 days of fasting. I arrived in Sicily having slept only two hours in 36, flown 6,000-plus miles and driven 1,200 kilometers only to arrive five minutes late for my first appointment (I hate to be late). I was fortunate enough to meet first with Ciro Biondi, who is as gracious an Ambassador as the region could have. I had tasted his wine and been impressed with the depth of character and, while fascinated, I was still trying to understand what the “Etna” grapes were all about. Nerello mascalese and nerello cappuccio are the two dominant red varieties and carricante is the dominant white. Ciro showed me the first of his three vineyards and I was really stunned. It looked like it was a scene from Hawaii, a black sand beach, no terracing, no trellising, just 40-60 year old head trained vines stretching up a 35-degree slope. I was dumbfounded. Ciro chuckled and brought me to the next vineyard, the same black sand beach yet with a 50-degree slope (that’s a Black Diamond)! The 2003 Vini Biondi Etna Rosso “Outis” ($32.99) is rich and complex; it feels more like pinot or nebbiolo in the mouth and it’s gorgeous. Ciro’s 2005 Vini Biondi Etna Bianco “Gurna” ($24.99) is predomi-nantly carricante, but from a field blend of 40 year old vines that is lush, exuberant and delicious to drink.

I also met with Andrea Franchetti, the owner of the famed Super Tuscan property Tenuta Trinoro, at his property on the north side of Etna—a new winery called Passopisciaro. His 2005 Passopisciaro Sicilia Rosso IGT ($31.99) is made from 40 year old vineyards; it is heady, supple, passion in a glass, drinkable and exciting. Andrea’s tiny new project (only 250 cases produced) is the 2005 Franchetti Sicilia Rosso IGT ($109.99), a blend of 60% petit verdot and 40% cesanese d’alice. This was WITHOUT A DOUBT the most impressive wine I tasted on my last trip, powerful structure and body from the petit verdot, while the rich, supple texture and heady aromatics come from the cesanese. Trust me.

I’m running out of space so I’m just going to list what I really think are excellent wines from Etna. First, the 2004 Villagrande “Fiore” Bianco Sicilia IGT ($24.99) is a delicious carricante. The powerful, (really) challenging, mineral-laden 2001 Benenti Etna Bianco Superiore “Pietramarina” ($44.99) is a multiple 3 Glass Gambero Rosso award winner. The supple and expressive 2002 Benenti Rosso di Verzella Etna Rosso ($22.99) is drinking beautifully now as is the powerful, barrique-aged 2001 Benenti Rotvillo ($46.99). Just outside of Etna, still nerello-based, the Paliari wines are not to be missed. The 2003 Paliari Rosso Soprano ($26.99) and the 2004 Paliari Faro ($64.99) are stunning wines. If you’ve tried Sicilian wines before, but haven’t tasted Etna, you really need to give them a try!

Mike’s October Picks!

2004 Blason “Vence” Friuli Ismono Biano ($14.99) A blend of 50% tocai friuliano and 20% pinot bianco (tank fermented and aged sur-lie, the remaining 30% is also pinot bianco that was barrel aged). This is a great wine for the first days of fall: intense scents of ripe apples and pears combine with delicate oak nuances. On the palate this white is medium-bodied, with a gentle, soft acidity and a persistent finish.

2004 La Fortuna “Fortunello” ($14.99) I have eagerly anticipated this self-proclaimed three star wine’s arrival since I tasted it in January. Made from 90% sangiovese and 10% merlot with a few months in wood, the nose is classic black cherries and strawberries with a hint of chocolate. On the palate, this full-bodied Super Tuscan offers the same fruits with a touch of minerals, soft tannins and plenty of acidity to give this an incredible long finish. It doesn’t get much better!

2006 Blason Rosato (Rosé) (750ml $7.99, 1.5L $13.99) A blend of 50% cabernet franc and 50% merlot, this dry rosé has beautiful strawberry and floral aromatics. Full of blueberries and blackberries, this wine is balanced with medium acidity and good viscosity. This is a wonderful cocktail wine all your friends will love.

2001 La Fortuna Brunello di Montalcino Riserva ($54.99) Wow! and Fantastico! are the first two things I wrote about this wine. No disappointments now. Greg called this a “Powerhouse.” It’s very concentrated with the classic 2001 backbone. This is going to go in to my cellar for many years, thought I wouldn’t cry if I had to drink it sooner than later (after three or four hours decanting and with a big steak).

Saluté!

The 1st Annual San Francisco WhiskyFest!

K&L Wine Merchants is proud to be a retail exhibitor when the Malt Advocate brings their fantastic WhiskyFest to San Francisco! The event will be held on Tuesday, October 23, 2007 at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in San Francisco. Tickets can be purchased at www.maltadvocate.com or by calling 800-610-MALT. K&L will be pouring some fantastic whiskies that evening, which will include our exclusive cask of 1991 Lochside, Gordon and MacPhail and maybe a wee bit of the very limited 2001 Bruichladdich “First Born.” We will also be pouring some older vintages of Benromach, which will be a special treat! Lastly, our favorite 1993 Mortlach from Murray McDavid! Read on for additional information on these fabulous whiskies. Don’t miss out on this fantastic event. I look forward to seeing you there! —Susan Purnell

Benromach Traditional, Speyside Single Malt...............$34.99

Benromach 21 year old, Speyside Single Malt Whisky...............$109.99

Benromach 22 year old, Port Wood Finish .......................$149.99

1980 Benromach 24 year old, Cask Strength .......................$169.99

Benromach 25 year old..............................................$154.99

1991 Lochside, Gordon & MacPhail, K&L Exclusive Cask ......$69.99

This cask was hand picked by the Urquhart Family from Gordon and MacPhail, who have been in the whisky industry for four generations. Believe me, this family knows how to choose beautiful casks! K&L was greatly pleased to be offered the opportunity to purchase this very rare cask. Lochside Distillery is no longer in existence, which makes this malt difficult to find. It was located in the city of Montrose, north of Dundee, on the East Coast of Scotland. Aged in a bourbon cask that marries perfectly with the whisky. There is a nice balance of sweetness, hints of vanilla, toasted nuts and creamy custard. Wow, how it wraps its flavors around your mouth and lingers on your palate! This is what fine whisky is all about, an experience that blows your mind and leaves you wanting it over and over again. The 1991 Lochside has this effect on me and I know it is going to be a whisky you’ll dream about! Buy one bottle to enjoy now and one to keep locked away for the future like a forgotten treasure! If you buy one bottle of whisky this Holiday Season, make it this bottle of 1991 Lochside!

Bruichladdich

Are you ready to be part of history? On Friday, July 21, 2006, while on holiday visiting Islay, I drove with Jim McEwan up to Bruichladdich Warehouse #13. We were looking for that special cask of 2001 Bruichladdich to have as a K&L Wine Merchants exclusive. What we found was this fantastic Bourbon Cask. We pulled out the bung, plunged in the valinch and poured the whisky into a glass. WOW! Even with all its youthfulness the whisky displayed classic Bruichladdich characteristics. It had the color of fine Champagne, a nose of vibrant citrus fruit like lemon sherbet with a layer of warm golden honey and a touch of sea breeze saltines. On the palate it was creamy with lovely weight and a length that lingered. Jim and I were thrilled. The next step would be ACEing (Additional Cask Enhancement) in a Ridge Zinfandel Wine Cask. The 54 barrels that were shipped to Bruichladdich had held two estate zinfandel blends from Geyserville and Lytton Springs. The barrels were coopered in 1999. On Thursday, August 17, 2006 Jim called to say, “It’s done, our baby is born! Now, Susan, you have to realize that your cask is the first thing we have done with our ‘New’ whisky since the distillery reopened in 2001!” Hence the name BRUICHLADDICH—FIRST BORN—Only a few cases available at the end of October.

Murray McDavid

K&L is extremely fortunate to have this second round of Mortlach from Murray McDavid. Two years ago while I was attending the Bruichladdich Single Malt Academy, I ACEd this Mortlach into these Port casks. I tasted a sample of the Port cask in May with importer Paul Joseph and was thrilled at the way it had progressed. The fresh Port cask gave the Mortlach depth with hints of grape tannin. Wow, I feel so proud to be involved with not only a first but a second fantastic cask of Mortlach. This is another fine example off what the ACEing program at Bruichladdich and Murray McDavid is all about! This is a California exclusive for K&L Wine Merchants.

Mortlach 12 year old, Murray McDavid Bourbon/Port ............$69.99
